Tax Cut Bill OK To Be Followed By Rights Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress plans to send to President Johnson the $11.5-billion tax cut measure this week before the opening round of the Senate's civil rights battle gets under way.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana intercepted the House-passed 11-point rights measure when it arrived at the Senate last Monday to prevent it from being sent to the Judiciary Committee—long a graveyard for civil rights proposals.

As soon as Mansfield moves to bring the bill up for consideration, probably late this week, Southern opponents are expected to start their filibuster.

Before that, Senate Democratic leaders hope to bring up a cotton-wheat bill, which some Republicans blocked from debate Friday.

Quick approval is expected in both houses of the compromise tax bill, agreed on Wednesday by Senate-House conferees.

The timetable calls for House action on the compromise Tuesday, with the Senate poised to consider it the following day. The reductions, largest in history, will be reflected in more take-home pay starting in mid-March for taxpayers subject to withholding from wages and salaries.

Otherwise, the floor programs for the week include House consideration of some relatively minor measures and a bill dealing with the length and frequency of broadcast commercials.

The Senate also has on its docket a House-passed $16.9 billion defense authorization bill.

Johnson returned to Washington by jet transport late Sunday night after spending three days in Los Angeles and Palm Springs. His Florida foray will take him to Jacksonville, Palatka and Miami for a heavy day long schedule of public appearances Thursday.

In California, the President demonstrated an extraordinary penchant for mixing with crowds, even when his Secret Service bodyguards were uneasy about the idea. During one stop in Los Angeles, he waded into a milling throng that was so eager to get at him that one woman broke her leg in the crush.

Although Johnson has always shared the politician's handshaking proclivities, never before did he go at it with such enthusiasm.

At Los Angeles International Airport, after saying farewell to Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, Johnson was so anxious to personally greet onlookers that he was undeterred by the fact that they were kept behind a wire fence seven feet high.

Climbing over a rope barrier, Johnson made a beeline for the fenced-in spectators and began touching fingers through the wire mesh. When some members of the crowd stretched their hands over the top of the fence, the President reached to grab them — even though strands of barbed wire atop the fence presented a hazard.

Getting off the plane in Palm Springs a half hour later, Johnson found the waiting crowd more numerous and the fence lower. Although it was after dark by this time, he spent about 15 minutes moving the length of this barrier while Air Force sergeants tried without success to move big floodlights so Secret Service agents and police could watch the crowd.

Friendship also was the keynote of Saturday's communique on his sessions with Lopez Mateos. It emphasized "a high level of understanding and cooperation" between the two presidents and the governments they represent.

Glenn-Young Debate Sought in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland City Club still hopes to arrange a debate between U. S. Sen. Stephen M. Young and his Democratic primary opponent, Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.

Both candidates for the Democratic nomination for senator say they want to debate but that it is a matter of finding a mutually agreeable Saturday date before the May 5 primary. City Club programs traditionally are held on Saturday afternoons.

A MAST, THERE! — Jim Dugan, Los Angeles Boat Show chairman, is amazed as he is confronted with the 56-foot mast of the Annapolis 44 sticking through the roof of the Pan-Pacific Auditorium. The 44-foot sloop, a sister-ship of the new, fiberglass Naval Academy yawls, is the largest sailboat ever displayed at an "inland" boat show. A hole was cut in the auditorium roof so the mast could be put in place.

Car Jolts Bridge Off Foundation

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — The Greene County Highway Department says it will cost an estimated $15,000 to repair a bridge near here that was knocked off its foundation by an automobile early Sunday.

The accident followed a high speed chase in which a highway patrol cruiser and two other vehicles were involved.

The chase, at times reaching 100 miles an hour, resulted in the arrest of Edward Bing, 26, of Chillicothe. He was charged with speeding and released on bond.

While Bing was being questioned, the screech of tires and a crash were heard nearby. A car driven by Virgil Coleman, 20, of Dayton had smashed into a small bridge about five miles west of here and knocked the span off its foundation, officials said. Both the bridge and auto tumbled into a small creek but Coleman was not hurt.

He was held on $300 bond on charges of speeding and other violations.

Libya Plans Denial Of Base to U.S.

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Libya says it does not intend to renew agreements permitting the United States and Britain to retain military bases on its soil. The U.S. agreement runs through 1971 and the British until 1973.

The Libyan government issued its statement in reply to criticism from President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Nasser called in a speech for an end to foreign bases like those in Libya. They include Wheelus Air Base, the last big American military installation in Africa, and British army and air force depots at Tripoli, Benghazi and El Adam.

CIRCLEVILLE High School's highlight of the year's social event calendar, the "Sweetheart Dance," was held Saturday night in the gym.

Approximately 400 students attended the semi-formal event. Pam Speakman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Speakman, 954 Circle Drive, reigned as queen of the dance while many parents looked on from the galleries. Decor theme of the girl-ask-boy social was "Our Winter Love," with Dick Welsh and his orchestra providing the music.

Jailbreakers Face Charges

Holdup, Kidnap Raps Are Readied

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — Charge were to be filed today against two prisoners whose escape Saturday touched off one of the biggest manhunts in Central Ohio in years.

Wayne A. Downing, 24, of Mount Sterling and his half-brother, Gary R. Massie, 22, New Holland, were talked into surrendering at a farm house near Chillicothe after a five-hour spree during which several persons were kidnapped and held as hostages.

Madison County Prosecutor James B. Patterson Jr. said the pair would be charged with escape, auto theft, kidnapping and armed robbery. He said they also face possible charges in connection with a bank robbery a week ago at Good Hope in Fayette County.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Reisinger talked Downing and Massie into giving up after deputies from Ross, Madison, Pickaway, Fayette, Pike and Scioto counties, along with police from three communities, highway patrol and FBI agents surrounded the house where the fugitives were holding George A. Lockhard, 80, as a hostage.

Reisinger said he had known the two men all their lives and had "never known them to have a bad bone in their body." The deputy dropped his pistol and went into Lockhard's home unarmed.

"There they were, Massie and Downing with pistols in their hands," Reisinger said. "I said, 'Lay them on the couch.' They did. Then they raised their hands."

Massie and Downing engineered their escape by telling authorities at the county jail here they wanted to make a statement about the Good Hope bank robbery.

They locked Sheriff Herbert Markley and two other officers in the jail bull pen before forcing Deputy William Stidham, 32, to accompany them in a cruiser. Stidham was the first of five men taken hostage during the spree that also included a trip into Clark County. All were released unharmed.

Flyer Rakes Derailed Cars

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A speeding passenger train side-swiped derailed cars of a freight train here Sunday night, but there was only minor damage to the passenger train.

The last seven cars of the New York Central freight jumped the tracks at the George Street crossing. The cars remained upright, and the passenger train, the New England States bound from Chicago to Boston, scraped by, sending up a shower of sparks.

The diesel engine on the New England States was replaced, and the train continued on its way 45 minutes later. No one was injured and damage to the diesel was minor, a railroad spokesman reported.

Cause of the derailment of the Toledo-to-Cleveland freight was being investigated. The railroad reported that the freight had been switched onto a siding to let the faster passenger train go by.

Renewed Violence Strikes Kashmir

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Twenty-three Indian policemen are missing after a new outbreak of violence between Pakistan and India in the troubled state of Kashmir.

The Indian Defense Ministry lodged a protest with U.N. observers, charging that troops from the Pakistani sector of Kashmir crossed the cease-fire line dividing the Himalayan state and attacked the Indian patrol Friday. Indian officials were able to account for only one member of the patrol.

The ambush occurred near Keran, about 70 miles west of Srinagar, Kashmir's summer capital, the ministry said. Pakistani troops crossed the cease-fire line along the Krishen Ganga River and fired on the patrol while other Pakistanis opened a barrage from the opposite bank, the ministry said.

A spokesman for Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party said Pakistan may have deliberately staged the ambush to impress Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, currently visiting Pakistan.

Indian officials expressed no surprise over a joint communique by Chou and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan Sunday pledging Red China's support of Pakistan in the Kashmir dispute.

A government spokesman said nothing startling could have emerged from a meeting of "the government leaders whose common denominator is dislike of India."

Ayub, who has always pictured himself as a strong friend of the West, held three days of talks with Chou in the old Punjab city of Rawalpindi, 60 miles west of the Kashmir frontier.

In the communique, Ayub promised "friendly cooperation" with his Communist neighbor to the north and said he would return Chou's visit with a trip to Peking.

Although Pakistan has received more than $3 billion in economic and military assistance from the United States, the communique contained implicit swipes at Washington for the $60 million in U.S. military aid to India following the 1962 Chinese border attacks.

Pakistan regards India as its chief threat, with the Kashmir dispute as the principal issue between them, and fears India will use the U.S. military aid against Pakistan.

With the communique, Pakistan served notice on Washington it will follow a more independent foreign policy and edge closer to Red China.

Chou repaid Ayub with support for a plebiscite in Kashmir, the chief Pakistani demand since the dispute erupted in 1947 with massive bloodshed. Moslem Pakistan assumes that Kashmir's predominantly Moslem populace would vote to break away from Hindu India.

Pakistani newspapers said Ayub agreed to support Red China's bid for a seat in the United Nations in return for Chou's backing on Kashmir.

Ayub told newsmen earlier that the United Nations was not representative of mankind as long as Red China remained outside its doors.

Grain Shipping Talks Collapse

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A union boycott blocking multimillion-dollar shipments of U.S. wheat to Russia continued today after the collapse of negotiations between labor leaders and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Not one bushel of wheat will be loaded in U.S. ports until federal officials guarantee at least half of all grain shipments to Soviet bloc countries will go in American vessels, said President Thomas W. Gleason of the International Longshoremen's Union.

Eight ships are tied up by the boycott in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports.

Wirtz left for Washington after four futile days of talks, saying the union's demand raised urgent problems affecting U.S. foreign policy, balance of payments and trade policy that could only be solved in highest level conferences in Washington.

Wirtz failed in a last-minute plea to union officials to lift the boycott until such conferences could be arranged.

President Johnson's personal appeals to labor leaders also failed to budge the adamant stand of the unions.

The longshoremen and other maritime unions had the full backing of the AFL-CIO in resisting the Johnson administration's request to load the wheat for Russia.

"They are just fighting for bread and butter for their people," said AFL-CIO President George Meany in backing the boycott.

The unions argue that the wheat going to the Soviet Union is partially subsidized by taxpayers' funds and that the government should provide more jobs for American workers by guaranteeing at least 50 per cent shipment in U.S. vessels.

Returned Purse Good Deed Repaid

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — A good deed performed last year has caught up with C. C. Green of Wichita Falls.

When Green found a wallet containing $1,100 in Brownwood, Tex., he handed it over to police for return to the owner.

In turn he received a telephone call from Wichita Falls police headquarters Saturday. Somebody had found Green's wallet and turned it in.

Green didn't even know he'd lost it. It contained $430.

Tribunal's Ruling Sought

TV Recording Snags Hearing

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby's defense lawyers prepared to fly to the Texas capital today to file a petition for a writ of mandamus before the state Supreme Court.

The mandamus would involve a ruling on whether persons who viewed on television the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby could serve as jurors.

A mandamus is an order by the Supreme Court directing certain actions.

The defense claims those who saw the shooting by Ruby of the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy are witnesses and therefore ineligible under Texas law to be jurors in the case.

Joe Tonahill, a defense attorney, talked by telephone with George Templin, clerk of the Texas Supreme Court, in Austin, the capital. He told Templin that he and other defense attorneys would leave Dallas today by private plane.

Meanwhile, the third juror, a woman, was sworn in. She is Mrs. Mildred McCollum, mother of six and a secretary for a building contractor.

Judge Joe B. Brown, hearing the Ruby trial, called a recess in the trial shortly after it opened today. He and attorneys (Continued on Page Two)

2 Mission Teachers Are Slain

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — A band of 30 spear-carrying rebels killed two Belgian teachers in an attack on a Roman Catholic mission in the Congo's turbulent Kwilu province Sunday.

Since the revolt was launched by the Congo's former education minister, Communist-trained Pierre Mulele, six months ago, six whites and more than 120 Congolese have been killed.

In the attack at the Makunzika mission, 30 miles south of the provincial capital of Kikwit, the rebels also wounded two Canadian priests and a Belgian teacher with arrows and clubs.

The two teachers, Jacques Bollaeys, 25, and Robert Marechal, 24, were struck by arrows and then stabbed to death. The wounded men were not identified.

The incident was reported by 20 members of the mission who arrived in Leopoldville Sunday night. They were among the last white persons still in the rebel area.

U.S. To Resume Tie with Zanzibar

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States has resumed diplomatic relations with Zanzibar after recognizing the island republic's new leftist government.

The State Department said two U.S. diplomats flew to Zanzibar Sunday after the United States, Great Britain and six British Commonwealth nations extended recognition to the regime of President Abeid Karume.

Karume seized power Jan. 12, ousting the sultanate that had governed the island since it received its independence from Britain in December.

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — More than 200 persons were combing the snow-covered mountain area south of Prescott for a 9-year-old boy missing since midmorning Sunday.

Yavapai County sheriff's officer said Dennis Hargus of Mesa, Ariz., walked away from a YMCA camp. Deputies said they found tracks in the snow but that they were obliterated by a rapid thaw.

Cyprus Talks Grow Crucial

U.N. Aide Hits Snag in Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reached a crucial stage today in diplomatic talks on his plan to ease the crisis on the smoldering island of Cyprus.

Thant brought British delegate Sir Patrick Dean and Cypriot Foreign Minister Sprock Kyprianos together for the first time at a 90-minute Sunday conference in his office. He expressed belief "the picture will be clearer" today.

One U.N. diplomat said Thant had reached a "difficult stage" in his effort to get agreement on an international peace force for Cyprus buttoned up before the Security Council resumes debate Tuesday on the crisis.

Thant's efforts were reported snagged by a dispute over whether any Cyprus resolution submitted to the 11-nation council should mention the 1960 treaty of guarantee that accompanied the island's grant of independence from Britain.

The treaty says Britain, Turkey and Greece can intervene independently in Cyprus to preserve constitutional arrangements between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

The United States, Britain and Turkey interpret this as an authorization for military intervention and want the treaty mentioned.

Greece and the Cypriot government, which is in the hands of the Greek Cypriot majority, oppose any mention of the treaty. They fear it will be used to justify a Turkish invasion to protect the Turkish Cypriot minority. The Greek Cypriot majority wants to end the minority's constitutional rights of veto over various types of legislation.

25 Rescued From Floe

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — In a three-hour rescue operation Sunday, Coast Guardsmen took 25 ice fishermen off a mile-wide ice floe in Lake Erie.

The 25, including four women and four children, were stranded when the section of ice broke away off Camp Perry and was blown northward into the lake.

The Coast Guard rescue team from Marblehead had to take the fishermen two at a time in their 14-foot ice skiff, a small aluminum boat with runners, across the half mile stretch of water.

A helicopter was used to take off two Coast Guardsmen who had been assisting the fishermen into the rescue craft. Boatswain's Mate R. M. Schultz said the water became so rough by the time the last fisherman reached shore he was afraid to try to send the skiff back to the ice floe for the Coast Guardsmen.

Leap Year Day Can Be Wacky Holiday

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — For residents of Ottawa, the next and wackiest holiday this year is Leap Year day when a man may be jailed for being unmarried.

It's Saturday, Feb. 29, and even the victims — the bachelors — are excited.

The single ladies will take over this northern Illinois city of nearly 20,000 persons for the once-in-a-quadrillion event.

Miss Joyce Hayne, a secretary in the accounting department of Ottawa Silica Co., will be inaugurated mayor for a day.

The role falls to her as president of the Ottawa Junior Women's Club.

Then, other girls will take the other city jobs — police chief, judge, fire chief, city prosecutor, and the City Council posts.

After that, the mere male population must watch its step — and, incidentally, its pocketbook.

This year, the girls are raising funds for a new mobile rescue unit which will go either to the fire department or the river rescue unit that parades the Illinois River.

Dorothy Bender, who was mayor four years ago, said the money will come from the men — or else.

Contributions are collected in open court from men who are summoned by the dainty arrest notices of the day — and the City Council chamber specially decorated for the occasion will be the courtroom.

"Oh my!" says Miss Hayne. "We couldn't hold court in a stuffy ordinary courtroom. I think we'll do it over in red and white—at least as much as we can with lots of gay plastic ornaments and ribbons."

Nancy Hilton is police magistrate for the day. She said all's fair, as far as the girls are concerned. But, she said, already, there is bribery afoot.

"Some men have sent flowers to some of our prospective city officials," she said. "We'll deal with those fellows."

If there is one man who's apt to get off lightly, it is Phil Bailey, two-time mayor now out of office. It was Bailey who thought up the leap year doings 12 years ago.

There has been some talk of a move to organize bachelor resistance. Bailey's advice to men with such outlandish ideas: "Don't do it, fellows. You just can't win."

Holdup, Kidnap Raps Are Readied

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Charge were to be filed today against two prisoners whose escape Saturday touched off one of the biggest manhunts in Central Ohio in years.

Wayne A. Downing, 24, of Mount Sterling and his half-brother, Gary R. Massie, 22, New Holland, were talked into surrendering at a farm house near Chillicothe after a five-hour spree during which several persons were kidnaped and held as hostages.

Madison County Prosecutor James B. Patterson Jr. said the pair would be charged with escape, auto theft, kidnaping and armed robbery. He said they also face possible charges in connection with a bank robbery a week ago at Good Hope in Fayette County.

Deputy Sheriff Carl Reisinger talked Downing and Massie into giving up after deputies from Ross, Madison, Pickaway, Fayette, Pike and Scioto counties, along with police from three communities, highway patrol and FBI agents surrounded the house where the fugitives were holding George A. Lockhard, 80, as a hostage.

Reisinger said he had known the two men all their lives and had "never known them to have a bad bone in their body." The deputy dropped his pistol and went into Lockhard's home unarmed.

"There they were, Massie and Downing with pistols in their hands," Reisinger said. "I said, 'Lay them on the couch.' They did. Then they raised their hands."

Massie and Downing engineered their escape by telling authorities at the county jail here they wanted to make a statement about the Good Hope bank robbery.

They locked Sheriff Herbert Markley and two other officers in the jail but pen before forcing Deputy William Stidham, 32, to accompany them in a cruiser. Stidham was the first of five men taken hostage during the spree that also included a trip into Clark County. All were released unharmed.

Flyer Rakes Derailed Cars

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A speeding passenger train side-swiped derailed cars of a freight train here Sunday night, but there was only minor damage to the passenger train.

The last seven cars of the New York Central freight jumped the tracks at the George Street crossing. The cars remained upright, and the passenger train, the New England States bound from Chicago to Boston, scraped by, sending up a shower of sparks.

The diesel engine on the New England States was replaced, and the train continued on its way 45 minutes later. No one was injured and damage to the diesel was minor, a railroad spokesman reported.

Cause of the derailment of the Toledo-to-Cleveland freight was being investigated. The railroad reported that the freight had been switched onto a siding to let the faster passenger train go by.

Renewed Violence Strikes Kashmir

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Twenty-three Indian policemen are missing after a new outbreak of violence between Pakistan and India in the troubled state of Kashmir.

The Indian Defense Ministry lodged a protest with U.N. observers, charging that troops from the Pakistani sector of Kashmir crossed the cease-fire line dividing the Himalayan state and attacked the Indian patrol Friday. Indian officials were able to account for only one member of the patrol.

The ambush occurred near Keran, about 70 miles west of Srinagar, Kashmir's summer capital, the ministry said. Pakistani troops crossed the cease-fire line along the Krishen Ganga River and fired on the patrol while other Pakistanis opened a barrage from the opposite bank, the ministry said.

A spokesman for Prime Minister Nehru's Congress party said Pakistan may have deliberately staged the ambush to impress Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, currently visiting Pakistan.

Indian officials expressed no surprise over a joint communique by Chou and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan Sunday pledging Red China's support of Pakistan in the Kashmir dispute.

A government spokesman said nothing startling could have emerged from a meeting of "the government leaders whose common denominator is dislike of India."

Ayub, who has always pictured himself as a strong friend of the West, held three days of talks with Chou in the old Punjab city of Rawalpindi, 60 miles west of the Kashmir frontier.

In the communique, Ayub promised "friendly cooperation" with his Communist neighbor to the north and said he would return Chou's visit with a trip to Peking.

Although Pakistan has received more than $3 billion in economic and military assistance from the United States, the communique contained implicit swipes at Washington for the $60 million in U.S. military aid to India following the 1962 Chinese border attacks.

Pakistan regards India as its chief threat, with the Kashmir dispute as the principal issue between them, and fears India

Gabon President Postpones Election

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP)—President Leon Mba, unseated briefly last week by a military revolt, dissolved his cabinet Sunday night and again postponed election of a new national assembly until April 12.

The elections, for which Mba's party has entered the only slate of candidates, were originally to have been held Sunday. After French troops put down the revolt, Mba rescheduled the voting for March 1.

will use the U.S. military aid against Pakistan.

With the communique, Pakistan served notice on Washington it will follow a more independent foreign policy and edge closer to Red China.

Chou repaid Ayub with support for a plebiscite in Kashmir, the chief Pakistani demand since the dispute erupted in 1947 with massive bloodshed. Moslem Pakistan assumes that Kashmir's predominantly Moslem populace would vote to break away from Hindu India.

Pakistani newspapers said Ayub agreed to support Red China's bid for a seat in the United Nations in return for Chou's backing on Kashmir. Ayub told newsmen earlier that the United Nations was not representative of mankind as long as Red China remained outside its doors.

Tribunal's Ruling Sought

TV Recording Snags Hearing

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's defense lawyers prepared to fly to the Texas capital today to file a petition for a writ of mandamus before the state Supreme Court.

The mandamus would involve a ruling on whether persons who viewed on television the shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby could serve as jurors.

A mandamus is an order by the Supreme Court directing certain actions.

The defense claims those who saw the shooting by Ruby of the man accused of assassinating President Kennedy are witnesses and therefore ineligible under Texas law to be jurors in the case.

Joe Tonahill, a defense attorney, talked by telephone with George Templin, clerk of the Texas Supreme Court, in Austin, the capital. He told Templin that he and other defense attorneys would leave Dallas today by private plane.

Meanwhile, the third juror, a woman, was sworn in. She is Mrs. Mildred McCollum, mother of six and a secretary for a building contractor.

Judge Joe B. Brown, hearing the Ruby trial, called a recess in the trial shortly after it opened today. He and attorneys

2 Mission Teachers Are Slain

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — A band of 30 spear-carrying rebels killed two Belgian teachers in an attack on a Roman Catholic mission in the Congo's turbulent Kwilu province Sunday.

Since the revolt was launched by the Congo's former education minister, Communist-trained Pierre Mulele, six months ago, six whites and more than 120 Congolese have been killed.

In the attack at the Makunzika mission, 30 miles south of the provincial capital of Kikwit, the rebels also wounded two Canadian priests and a Belgian teacher with arrows and clubs.

The two teachers, Jacques Bollards, 25, and Robert Marechal, 24, were struck by arrows and then stabbed to death. The wounded men were not identified.

The incident was reported by 20 members of the mission who arrived in Leopoldville Sunday night. They were among the last white persons still in the rebel area.

U.S. To Resume Tie with Zanzibar

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States has resumed diplomatic relations with Zanzibar after recognizing the island republic's new leftist government.

The State Department said two U.S. diplomats flew to Zanzibar Sunday after the United States, Great Britain and six British Commonwealth nations extended recognition to the regime of President Abeid Karume.

Karume seized power Jan. 12, ousting the sultanate that had governed the island since it received its independence from Britain in December.

Police Probe Dairy Entry

A burglary at the Blue Ribbon Dairy, 315 S. Pickaway St., was investigated early today by city police.

Entry was gained by forcing a sliding door at the side of the building. The only articles reported taken were three small screwdrivers and a pair of needle-nose pliers from a boiler room.

According to Patrolmen Larry Pontious and Wesley Barton, a door to the dairy's main office also was forced by pulling bolts from the hinges.

The officers said a mark was found on a small safe, but was not opened. They said nothing of value was missing, nor was there evidence of ransacking.

Neighbors next to the dairy told Barton and Pontious they heard nothing during the night. The entry was discovered at about 5 a. m. today by James Salyer, an employee of the dairy.

GOP Hopefuls Blast LBJ

Viet Nam Policy Under Heavy Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential possibilities are continuing their all-out assault on President Johnson's policies—with special emphasis on the situation in South Viet Nam.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon blasted the administration's foreign policies over the weekend. Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, meanwhile, mounted an attack on the President's anti-poverty campaign.

Rockefeller, in a statement Sunday, accused the administration of "news management" to keep "the hard facts of the military situation from the American people."

He said "the American people have a right to know the whole truth about what is going on."

In South Viet Nam, Nixon said "It is obvious that the administration is preparing the American people for retreat or defeat (which) will inevitably lead to the loss of all Southeast Asia to the Communists."

Goldwater, winding up four days of campaigning for the New Hampshire primary, told an overflow crowd of 800 in Nashua Saturday night that Johnson's anti-poverty campaign is "half-baked."

"Poverty is a 30-year problem the Democrats have just recognized," the Arizona senator said. "The creation of jobs is the simple thing but the simpletons in Washington just can't understand."

Stock Mart Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly higher early this afternoon as it neared the significant 800 level in the Dow Jones industrial average. Trading was heavy.

First-hour volume was 1.77 million shares compared with 1.11 million Thursday, the last trading day before the three-day Washington's birthday weekend.

A generally higher tone prevailed among motors, steels, rubbers, rails, airlines, chemicals and mail order-retailers.

Building materials, aerospace issues, nonferrous metals and tobaccos were mixed. Continued strength in steel demand and good business news provided the market's framework. It was enhanced by prospects of imminent passage of the $11.5-million tax cut bill which is expected to put extra money into the hands of the public within weeks.

The afternoon schedule called for further deliberation on a petition for improvement of Hughes Ditch in Harrison Twp. A final hearing on the request, launched last Tuesday, was recessed until today to allow for additional inspection of the area.

The ditch project concerns 21 property owners. The original petition was filed last June. Additional business early today included a discussion on heating facilities at the Pickaway County Infirmary.

Population in City, County Shows Increase since 1960

Estimates by the state's Economic Research Division lists Pickaway County's population at 38,475 as of July 1, 1963—representing an increase of 2,620 since the 1960 census.

Circleville's population at July of last year was estimated at 11,995. This signifies an increase of 936 over the 1960 figure of 11,059.

A Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce population estimate for the county last year set the number at 37,500. The estimate for the city was 11,729.

Today's Economic Research Division figures are part of a statewide estimate of population in Ohio's 88 counties, 194 cities and 737 villages.

ASHVILLE was listed as the largest of Pickaway's nine villages. The figure was estimated at 1,750.

The rundown on other villages was: Commercial Point, 319; Darbyville, 220; Harrisburg, nine; New Holland, 684; Orient, 326; South Bloomfield, 475; Tarlton, 381; Williamsport, 872.

The balance of county population, in addition to Circleville and the nine villages, was tabulated at 21,444.

It was noted in the state's report that two villages, Harrisburg and New Holland, are partially in other counties.

For Harrisburg, its 356 in Franklin and nine in Pickaway. The breakdown for New Holland lists 684 in Pickaway and 118 in Fayette.

The state's set of figures indicates that Pickaway's population has increased 9,123 since the official census of 1950. The count that year for the county was 29,352.

An estimate for Ohio as a whole listed population at 10,266,204 as of July 1, 1963. This compares with an estimated figure of 10,195,085 on Jan. 1, 1963 and an actual figure of 9,706,397 on April 1, 1960.

Corpse Arm Transplanted To Live Man

BOSTON (AP)—Two doctors at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital reported today that the first transplant of a human limb from a corpse to a live person has been performed in Guyaquil, Ecuador.

The two Boston surgeons reported that the operation was performed last week on a 28-year-old Ecuadorian sailor who had lost his right hand in an accident.

Dr. Roberto Gilbert, chief surgeon at the Clinica Guyaquil, replaced the missing hand and forearm with one from a man who had recently died in another hospital in Ecuador.

Drs. Richard W. Wilson and Robert M. Goldwyn of the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital flew down to the South American country by invitation last Tuesday.

Dr. Gilbert had contacted the transplant unit of the famed Boston hospital for advice on the post operative treatment of the patient.

Drs. Wilson and Goldwyn said they believe this is the first homograph of a human limb in medical history.

They said that when they left Ecuador over the weekend the patient was coming along fine.

No-Bidding Deal Ruled Illegal in Athens County

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A permanent injunction was issued today enjoining Athens County officials from paying $60,556 to the Ohio Bridge Corp. of Cambridge.

Common Pleas Court Judge John Bolin made the ruling on a taxpayer's suit brought by Gabriel F. Pincelli of Chauncey.

The Cambridge firm had built a bridge and repaired another in the county last year.

Pincelli charged in his suit that his projects were not advertised or put up for bidding.

Judge Bolin ruled that county commissioners did not have the right to award the contract without advertising and bidding on the projects.

A spokesman for the commissioners said an appeal is likely.

Tribunal's

Chief defense counsel Melvin Belli came out of the judge's chambers and talked with newsmen. He said, "The question is quite simple: can a witness be a juror?"

He said that technically, if the Texas Supreme Court upholds the defense argument, he could subpoena as witnesses anyone who saw the television scenes of the shooting.

He said that the legal maneuver is connected with his petition for transferring the trial away from Dallas. "I'm sure we could find people who hadn't seen this on television if we could try the case in some other city," Belli said. He added:

"This is wearing Ruby down and wearing all of us down."

Belli said that if the writ of mandamus is granted, "We might even take, as jurors, some people who had seen the scene on television. It would depend on the type of juror."

Of the 48 persons questioned, 20 were disqualified when they said they could not vote to send Ruby, or anyone else, to the electric chair. Another 16 were disqualified "for cause" — such as having formed an opinion about the case or being opposed to the suspended-sentence law in a murder case.

Two factors are contributing to the slow progress.

One is Belli's contention that Ruby can't get a fair trial in Dallas. He says the city is saturated with prejudice, ashamed of the fact that President John F. Kennedy was assassinated here, and is bent on vindicating itself by executing Ruby.

The second factor is that this is the first death case in which the killing was seen on television.

Cameras recorded the instant when Ruby, a Dallas night club operator, killed Lee Harvey Oswald, who had been charged with the assassination of Kennedy.

Belli contends, again and again, that anyone who saw the televised scene is a witness. Under Texas law, he argues, such persons are disqualified to serve as jurors. The prosecution disputes this interpretation of the law, and Brown has ruled with Wade.

In questioning jury candidates, Ruby's attorneys ask: "Did you see the television of the shooting of Oswald?"

If the prospect says he has, the defense asks him to describe what he saw.

Then, Ruby's lawyers ask the prospective juror if he was "horrorified" or "upset." Or they often ask: "And you will carry this memory to your grave, won't you?" Should the prospect agree, the defense immediately moves to disqualify him as incapable of judging Ruby impartially.

Johnson is being represented by Allan Berger, local attorney. Robert H. Huffer presented the case for the prosecution and Judge William Ammer was on the bench.

Police Probe Dairy Entry

A burglary at the Blue Ribbon Dairy, 315 S. Pickaway St., was investigated early today by city police.

Entry was gained by forcing a sliding door at the side of the building. The only articles reported taken were three small screwdrivers and a pair of needle-nose pliers from a boiler room.

According to Patrolmen Larry Pontious and Wesley Barton, a door to the dairy's main office also was forced by pulling bolts from the rings.

The officers said a mark was found on a small safe, but was not opened. They said nothing of value was missing, nor was there evidence of ransacking. Neighbors next to the dairy told Barton and Pontious they heard nothing during the night. The entry was discovered at about 8 a. m. today by James Salver, an employee of the dairy.

GOP Hopefuls Blast LBJ

Viet Nam Policy Under Heavy Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential possibilities are continuing their all-out assault on President Johnson's policies—with special emphasis on the situation in South Viet Nam.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon blasted the administration's foreign policies over the weekend. Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, meanwhile, mounted an attack on the President's anti-poverty campaign.

Rockefeller, in a statement Sunday, accused the administration of "news management" to keep "the hard facts of the military situation from the American people."

He said "the American people have a right to know the whole truth about what is going on."

In South Viet Nam, Nixon said "It is obvious that the administration is preparing the American people for retreat or defeat (which) will inevitably lead to the loss of all Southeast Asia to the Communists."

Goldwater, winding up four days of campaigning for the New Hampshire primary, told an overflow crowd of 800 in Nashua Saturday night that Johnson's antipoverty campaign is "half-baked."

"Poverty is a 30-year problem the Democrats have just recognized," the Arizona senator said. "The creation of jobs is the simple thing but the simpletons in Washington just can't understand."

Stock Mart Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly higher early this afternoon as it neared the significant 800 level in the Dow Jones industrial average. Trading was heavy.

First-hour volume was 1.77 million shares compared with 1.11 million Thursday, the last trading day before the three-day Washington's birthday weekend.

A generally higher tone prevailed among motors, steels, rubbers, rails, airlines, chemicals and mail order-retails.

Building materials, aerospace issues, nonferrous metals and tobaccos were mixed.

Continued strength in steel demand and good business news provided the market's framework. It was enhanced by prospects of imminent passage of the $11.5-million tax cut bill which is expected to put extra money into the hands of the public within weeks.

Circus Lion Attacks Trainer in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jon Zerbin was clawed and bitten by a lion during a performance of the Grotto Circus at Public Auditorium Sunday.

Chief defense counsel Melvin Belli came out of the judge's chambers and talked with newsmen. He said, "The question is quite simple: can a witness be a juror?"

He said that technically, if the Texas Supreme Court upholds the defense argument, he could subpoena as witnesses anyone who saw the television scenes of the shooting.

He said that the legal maneuver is connected with his petition for transferring the trial away from Dallas. "I'm sure we could find people who hadn't seen this on television if we could try the case in some other city," Belli said. He added:

"This is wearing Ruby down and wearing all of us down."

Belli said that if the writ of mandamus is granted, "We might even take, as jurors, some people who had seen the scene on television. It would depend on the type of juror."

Of the 48 persons questioned, 20 were disqualified when they said they could not vote to send Ruby, or anyone else, to the electric chair. Another 16 were disqualified "for cause" — such as having formed an opinion about the case or being opposed to the suspended-sentence law in a murder case.

Two factors are contributing to the slow progress.

One is Belli's contention that Ruby can't get a fair trial in Dallas. He says the city is saturated with prejudice, ashamed of the fact that President John F. Kennedy was assassinated here, and is bent on vindicating itself by executing Ruby.

The second factor is that this is the first death case in which the killing was seen on television.

Cameras recorded the instant when Ruby, a Dallas night club operator, killed Lee Harvey Oswald, who had been charged with the assassination of Kennedy.

Belli contends, again and again, that anyone who saw the televised scene is a witness. Under Texas law, he argues, such persons are disqualified to serve as jurors. The prosecution disputes this interpretation of the law, and Brown has ruled with Wade.

In questioning jury candidates, Ruby's attorneys ask: "Did you see the television of the shooting of Oswald?"

If the prospect says he has, the defense asks him to describe what he saw.

Then, Ruby's lawyers ask the prospective juror if he was "horrorified" or "upset." Or they often ask: "And you will carry this memory to your grave, won't you?" Should the prospect agree, the defense immediately moves to disqualify him as incapable of judging Ruby impartially.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "The Gambling Heart" on NBC Sunday night, an original comedy by the eminent film and television writer Horton Foote, was acted by a skillful company of players. It was given a lavish production. It was a tedious, unfunny bore.

The plot concerned an aggressive mother with two daughters. One was married to a pompous, money-mad promoter. The other was married to a humble owner of a dry cleaning store. The action swirled around some oil stock on which the dry cleaner had timidly gambled all his savings, goaded on by his mother-in-law and the big talking promoter.

There was a tremendous amount of storming around and yelling — but no laughter in my living room — before the dry cleaner took his profits and ran.

If an ingratiating fellow like Wally Cox had played the dry cleaner, he might have achieved some warmth for the character. As it was, they were all brash, harsh and thoroughly unattractive. It was impossible to care what happened to any of them.

"That Was the Week That Was" on Friday night kicked off with a savage satire on fair employment practices, but the rest of the show proved rather slow going.

The spiciest bit of the evening on NBC was a continuation of the feud between the program and Jack Paar whose hour show follows it. Paar is unhappy about the size of the audience he inherits from the revue.

Toward the end of "TW3" a voice announced in crisp tones that "through circumstances beyond our control, the Jack Paar show follows immediately."

Paar came on with his pre-taped show, opening his monologue with more complaints about "TW3" and calling it, among other names, "Henry Morgan's original amateur hour." The rest of his monologue was in embarrassingly poor taste.

Recommended tonight: "East Side, West Side," CBS, 10-11 (EST) — "The Street," marking the first step in a change in the show's format.

Four Holstein Cows Set New Production Marks

Four registered Holstein cows in this area have established new production records. From the Reuben Jones and Sons dairy herd of Route 4, are Jane Hartog Pabst 4505473, a six-year-old cow and Inie Shang-high Hartog 4942151, a three-year-old cow.

The former produced 15,392 pounds of milk and 626 pounds of butterfat in 314 days, and the latter produced 14,158 pounds of milk and 624 pounds of butterfat in 290 days.

Orient Pontiac Prince 3894085, an eight-year-old owned by Orient State Institute produced 16,000 pounds of milk and 559 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

Circle Rase Bestar Barbetta 5672590, a two-year-old owned by Walter C. Rase, Route 4, produced 15,790 pounds of milk and 566 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

According to the national Holstein organization, the production figures compare to an annual output of 7,211 pounds of milk and 270 pounds of butterfat by the average dairy cow.

Ohio State University supervised the weighing and testing of the Holstein records as part of the breed's nationwide herd testing programs.

Ohio Nearing 161st Birthday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With the beginning of March, Ohio begins its 162nd year as a state.

March 1 is only one of five suggested birthday anniversaries for the state. But it's the generally accepted one, and it would make Ohio 161 years old next Sunday.

Here are some of the arguments put forward in favor of March 1:

In providing for the centennial celebration of 1903, the legislature adopted a resolution which states that "on March 1, 1803, the first general assembly met and organized and Ohio thereupon became a state."

A half-century after the expression of legislative opinion, the President of the United States, then Dwight D. Eisenhower, signed a congressional act officially admitting Ohio to the union.

That was Aug. 7, 1953, and it made admission retroactive to March 1, 1803, making up for what historians suggest was the forgetfulness or confusion of the 7th Congress.

But if you don't want to accept Sunday as the state's birthday anniversary, here are the other dates most often suggested:

April 30, 1802—A congressional enabling act permitted the territory to draw up a constitution and set up state government.

Nov. 29, 1802—That constitution was signed.

Feb. 19, 1803—Congress passed another act, providing for "due execution of the laws of the United States within the state of Ohio."

March 3, 1803 — Congress agreed to changes suggested by an Ohio constitutional convention regarding land for school purposes. Gov. Salmon P. Chase (1856-1860) intimated this fixed date of federal recognition.

too young or too old to work. The 1960 census counted 180 million Americans. Of these, 68.4 million were under 19 and 16.5 million over 65.

Between 1960 and 1964 money for consumption was earned by about the same number of workers. Civilian employment was put at 66.7 million at the start of the decade and 68.6 million four years later. Unemployment rarely dropped below 4 million.

All of these things—business caution born of excesses, less urgent consumer demands, sticky unemployment—kept the decade from soaring at the start.

Since the business pace quickened just three years ago, the gains have been reassuring. But no one has dubbed them booming.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—"The Gambling Heart" on NBC Sunday night, an original comedy by the eminent film and television writer Horton Foote, was acted by a skillful company of players. It was given a lavish production. It was a tedious, unfunny bore.

The plot concerned an aggressive mother with two daughters. One was married to a pompous, money-mad promoter. The other was married to a humble owner of a dry cleaning store. The action swirled around some oil stock on which the dry cleaner had timidly gambled all his savings, goaded on by his mother-in-law and the big talking promoter.

There was a tremendous amount of storming around and yelling — but no laughter in my living room — before the dry cleaner took his profits and ran.

If an ingratiating fellow like Wally Cox had played the dry cleaner, he might have achieved some warmth for the character. As it was, they were all brash, harsh and thoroughly unattractive. It was impossible to care what happened to any of them.

"That Was the Week That Was" on Friday night kicked off with a savage satire on fair employment practices, but the rest of the show proved rather slow going.

The spiciest bit of the evening on NBC was a continuation of the feud between the program and Jack Paar whose hour show follows it. Paar is unhappy about the size of the audience he inherits from the revue.

Toward the end of "TW3" a voice announced in crisp tones that "through circumstances beyond our control, the Jack Paar show follows immediately."

Paar came on with his pre-arranged show, opening his monologue with more complaints about "TW3" and calling it, among other names, "Henry Morgan's original amateur hour." The rest of his monologue was in embarrassingly poor taste.

Recommended tonight: "East Side, West Side," CBS, 10-11 (EST)—"The Street," marking the first step in a change in the show's format.

Cows Set New

Production Marks

Four registered Holstein cows in this area have established new production records.

From the Reuben Jones and Sons dairy herd of Route 4, are Jane Hartog Pabst 4505473, a six-year-old cow and Inie Shang-high Hartog 4942151, a three-year-old cow.

The former produced 15,392 pounds of milk and 626 pounds of butterfat in 314 days, and the latter produced 14,158 pounds of milk and 624 pounds of butterfat in 290 days.

Orient Pontiac Prince 3894085, an eight-year-old owned by Walter C. Rase, Route 4, produced 15,790 pounds of milk and 566 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

Circle Rase Bestar Barbetta 5672590, a two-year-old owned by Walter C. Rase, Route 4, produced 15,790 pounds of milk and 566 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

According to the national Holstein organization, the production figures compare to an annual output of 7,211 pounds of milk and 270 pounds of butterfat by the average dairy cow.

Ohio State University supervised the weighing and testing of the Holstein records as part of the breed's nationwide herd testing programs.

Ohio Nearing 161st Birthday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With the beginning of March, Ohio begins its 162nd year as a state.

March 1 is only one of five suggested birthday anniversaries for the state. But it's the generally accepted one, and it would make Ohio 161 years old next Sunday.

Here are some of the arguments put forward in favor of March 1:

In providing for the centennial celebration of 1903, the legislature adopted a resolution which states that "on March 1, 1803, the first general assembly met and organized and Ohio thereupon became a state."

A half-century after the expression of legislative opinion, the President of the United States, then Dwight D. Eisenhower, signed a congressional act officially admitting Ohio to the union.

That was Aug. 7, 1953, and it made admission retroactive to March 1, 1803, making up for what historians suggest was the forgetfulness or confusion of the 7th Congress.

But if you don't want to accept Sunday as the state's birthday anniversary, here are the other dates most often suggested:

April 30, 1802—A congressional enabling act permitted the territory to draw up a constitution and set up state government.

Nov. 29, 1802—That constitution was signed.

Feb. 19, 1803—Congress passed another act, providing for "due execution of the laws of the United States within the state of Ohio."

March 3, 1803 — Congress agreed to changes suggested by an Ohio constitutional convention regarding land for school purposes. Gov. Salmon P. Chase (1856-1860) intimated this fixed date of federal recognition.

Illusion Ends

An illusion that somehow the world, and more particularly the United Nations, might accommodate two Chinas lies shattered in the wake of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's break with France.

Neither Nationalist headquarters on Formosa nor the communist leadership in Peking entertained the illusion. Contrary to wishful speculation in some Western capitals, neither did General De Gaulle.

In all of his rhetoric explaining France's decision to recognize Red China, not one word sustained hope for a two-China formula. Included in De Gaulle's remarks was a tribute to the "patriotism and noble spirit" of Generalissimo Chiang — spoken with unmistakable ring of an elegy.

Then, having paid his respects to a former comrade-in-arms, De Gaulle proceeded to argue that "the weight of evidence and of reason" left little doubt that "eternal China" was under control of Mao and the communists.

After this assessment, the choice confronting the Nationalists was clear. They could stay on in Paris, but obviously only as the representatives of Formosa, while the credentials De Gaulle consigned to "eternal China" would go to the delegation from Peking.

Personal honor as well as respect for the millions of Chinese who have not succumbed to communist rule demanded that Generalissimo Chiang refuse.

The Business World

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The economy-priming income tax cut all but became a reality during the past week.

House and Senate conference committees agreed on its provisions.

The legislation's year-long journey through Congress is expected to end this week with adoption by both houses. Then it will be sent to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

Within three weeks, it is anticipated, an $800-million-a-month transfusion will begin flowing into the business bloodstream.

When the reduction becomes fully effective in 1965, it will mean an annual savings of $11.5 billion for 80 million Americans and 575,000 business firms.

Two-thirds of the cut, or $7.7 billion, is retroactive to last Jan. 1. The balance takes effect Jan. 1, 1965.

Personal income taxes will be reduced by an average of about 20 per cent. The tax relief for individuals will total $9.1 billion and business firms will share $2.4 billion in benefits.

The Kennedy administration introduced the legislation as a means of keeping the economy on the upgrade, and the Johnson administration gave it top priority.

Some Wall Street sources say

the stock market's rise in the last year has been due in part to anticipation of a tax cut and that the benefits have been largely discounted. Others contend the market will react favorably when the tax savings start flowing into the economy.

Here are some statistics that help paint the business picture: Personal income climbed in January to an annual rate of $478.7 billion, up $2.7 billion from December and $14.7 billion

Great Dream

By John Chamberlain

You may never have heard of the Midland Canal proposition. But now that new substitutes for the obsolescent Panama Canal are being talked about, it should come more and more into the news. Since the pater- nity of the idea of building a canal through the wall of the Alleghenies in West Virginia goes back to George Washington, this is a good day for the whole country to brush up on its possibilities.

Briefly, the proponents of a Midland Canal would like to see ocean-going ships moving from tidewater in George Washington's old State of Virginia to the Ohio River, with locks and long tunnel serving to connect up the deepwater channels of various rivers. Some of the canal enthusiasts even dare propose an ocean-to-ocean submarine-proof inland water route, making use at its western end of the Missouri and Columbia rivers. This would link the vision of Thomas Jefferson, who sent Lewis and Clark to the Pacific via the Missouri, with that of George Washington.

Is this all a mad dream? Well, so West Virginians point out, the St. Lawrence Seaway was once a mad dream. The dream, if it be such, began when General Washington, not yet President of the United States, proposed in 1784 to connect the James River in Virginia with the Kanawha River by utilizing dammed-up mountain creeks, locks and a short tunnel near the crest of the Appalachian divide. Lacking dynamite, bulldozers, power shovels, power drills and trucks, the canal company that Washington and his business associates formed never completed the job. But the proposal had an unlooked-for political and social dividend, for Washington's attempts to get Delaware, Maryland and Virginia to help the canal along by abolishing interstate trade restrictions led to the Annapolis and Philadelphia conventions, which created the framework of the modern United States.

To make George Washington's dream feasible in this century, there would have to be a 96-mile-long tunnel from Natural Bridge Station in Virginia to Deepwater, the head of navigation on the Kanawha River. The tunnel, at 572 feet above sea level, would have to be commodious enough to carry a 38-foot depth of water, which would be sufficient to float most ocean freighters. Moreover, the James, the Kanawha and the Ohio River channels would have to be deepened, and the locks on the Ohio improved. If the dream could be pushed through all the way to the Pacific, a 135-mile-long tunnel would have to be dug and blasted from Great Falls, Montana, to Flathead Lake. And there would have to be new locks and short canals along the Missouri and the Columbia rivers. The Midland Canal enthusiasts talk about raising two billion dollars to construct the Appalachian end of the project. With Khrushchev's permission, the cost might be shaved a good bit by atomic blasting. This would provide cross-country barge access to a point as far west as Sioux City, Iowa, as far south as Texas, as far north as Minnesota, and to the north-eastern United States via the Illinois River, the Chicago Canal and the Great Lakes. Nobody has estimated, as yet, the cost of carrying the canal idea through to the Pacific.

Lest the whole business be thought of as a possible federal boondoggle, the Midland enthusiasts suggest a Midland Canal Authority, working under interstate compacts to raise money by selling tax-free revenue bonds which would be retired ultimately out of tolls.

One can see why the railroads would not look with favor upon

George Washington's old dream. Nor, for that matter, would it necessarily appeal to New York Staters who already have their own Erie Canal, or Great Lakes shippers who now utilize the St. Lawrence Seaway. But with the passage of time and the growth of populations, existing transportation systems have a way of becoming inadequate to take care of needs. The Erie Canal survived the creation of the New York Central Railroad — and did its greatest volume of business long after the railroad was in full-blown operation. And the St. Lawrence Seaway hasn't ruined the Port of New York.

Anyway, whether the Midland idea ever becomes a reality or not, it is interesting to know that George Washington's thinking about industry still has the power to move the minds of men. Washington was first in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen — and first in projecting a vision of modern industrial America.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Pain in the face is a frequent complaint of patients, mostly because of its persistence and chronic annoyance.

To the physician, a vaguely described indefinable pain in the face represents a challenge in diagnosis, because the nerves of the face, jaws, head, ears, eyes and neck are an intricate system of inter-communication.

The "fifth nerve" (or "trigeminal") is one of the 12 cranial nerves of the brain. This nerve is responsible for sensations of feeling or pain. A gentle breath of air, a wisp of cotton or a barely perceptible irritation is immediately recorded by the "fifth nerve" and transmitted to the brain.

There are many possible causes of persistent pain: the sinuses, the teeth, the bite of the teeth and the jaw joint, diseases of the ears, nose and throat, changes in the spine or the neck, muscle tensions of the jaws and neck, blood vessel variations, eye conditions and even toxic and allergic reactions to drugs and food.

Such is the wide range of causes given consideration when facial pain is the presenting symptom. Pain anywhere in the face is therefore investigated by physicians both at the site of discomfort and in areas totally removed from the pin-pointed spot of tenderness.

Some people are distressed and probably frightened by the slightest degree of pain. Therefore, they feel pain more acutely.

There are two distinct facets to pain that enter into its evaluation: the severity of the pain and the particular sensitivity of the patient.

Others can tolerate a great deal of discomfort without complaint. The "non-complainers" do not necessarily enjoy an advantage, for such people sometimes tend to neglect conditions that may deserve early attention.

So the individual's tolerance or "threshold" for pain is an important consideration for the establishment of diagnosis.

X-Rays of the neck, skull, sinuses and jaw, blood studies, delicate neurological tests, cultures of the throat and sinuses, studies of the occlusion (bite) of the teeth, the balance of the eye muscles — all contribute to the conclusive diagnosis that finally determines the treatment and cure of facial pain.

There is one highly painful condition of the facial nerve, called "tic douloureux," that deserves special attention. It is characterized by sudden severe episodic attacks of violent facial pain.

When patients are subject to tic douloureux, attacks of this excruciating pain may be triggered by simple exposure to cold, by merely wiping the face or even by a sneeze.

Newer medications and treatments are now available that reduce the severity and frequency of these intense spasms of the facial nerve.

The patience of both the doctor and the patient is often sorely tried as they mutually seek the cause of any persistent facial pain. Diligence must continue, in spite of temporary disappointment, to uncover successfully the causes of these painful and irritating conditions.

Illusion Ends

An illusion that somehow the world, and more particularly the United Nations, might accommodate two Chinas lies shattered in the wake of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's break with France.

Neither Nationalist headquarters in Formosa nor the communist leadership in Peking entertained the illusion. Contrary to wishful speculation in some Western capitals, neither did General De Gaulle.

In all of his rhetoric explaining France's decision to recognize Red China, not one word sustained hope for a two-China formula. Included in De Gaulle's remarks was a tribute to the "patriotism and noble spirit" of Generalissimo Chiang — spoken with unmistakable ring of an elegy.

Then, having paid his respects to a former comrade-in-arms, De Gaulle proceeded to argue that "the weight of evidence and of reason" left little doubt that "eternal China" was under control of Mao and the communists.

After this assessment, the choice confronting the Nationalists was clear. They could stay on in Paris, but obviously only as the representatives of Formosa, while the credentials De Gaulle consigned to "eternal China" would go to the delegation from Peking.

Personal honor as well as respect for the millions of Chinese who have not succumbed to communist rule demanded that Generalissimo Chiang refuse.

The Business World

By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The economy-priming income tax cut all but became a reality during the past week.

House and Senate conference committees agreed on its provisions.

The legislation's year-long journey through Congress is expected to end this week with adoption by both houses. Then it will be sent to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

Within three weeks, it is anticipated, an $800-million-a-month transfusion will begin flowing into the business bloodstream.

When the reduction becomes fully effective in 1965, it will mean an annual savings of $11.5 billion for 80 million Americans and 575,000 business firms.

Two-thirds of the cut, or $7.7 billion, is retroactive to last Jan. 1. The balance takes effect Jan. 1, 1965.

Personal income taxes will be reduced by an average of about 20 per cent. The tax relief for individuals will total $9.1 billion and business firms will share $2.4 billion in benefits.

The Kennedy administration introduced the legislation as a means of keeping the economy on the upgrade, and the Johnson administration gave it top priority.

Some Wall Street sources say

the stock market's rise in the last year has been due in part to anticipation of a tax cut and that the benefits have been largely discounted. Others contend the market will react favorably when the tax savings start flowing into the economy.

Here are some statistics that help paint the business picture:

Personal income climbed in January to an annual rate of $478.7 billion, up $2.7 billion from December and $14.7 billion above January 1963.

Housing starts in January reached an annual rate of 1.7 million units, a gain of 9 per cent over December and of 26 per cent over January 1963.

Durable goods manufacturers received in January new orders totaling 19.1 billion, up 8 per cent from December. About two-thirds of the increase was due to increased activity in the transportation industry.

Industrial production in January attained a record rate for the fourth straight month. However, the margin was slim. The Federal Reserve Board's index advanced to 127.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average from 127 in December.

Cash dividend payments by corporations in January amounted to about $1.2 billion, a gain of 8 per cent over January 1962.

The steel industry during the week racked up its seventh consecutive weekly production gain. Output rose 2.6 per cent from the preceding week to 2,277,000 tons. For the first seven weeks of the year production totaled 15,213,000 tons against 13,472,000 for the same period a year earlier.

Steel's biggest customer, the automobile industry, was ordering at a strong clip and demand from construction, its No. 2 buyer, also was good.

Automakers stepped up production during the week to an estimated 170,200 passenger cars from 164,364 the previous week and 144,701 a year earlier.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz continued pressing for the Johnson administration proposal to raise overtime pay rates in certain industries to promote more employment. He said it would add little if anything to employer costs and would create more jobs.

David Rockefeller, president of Chase Manhattan Bank of New York and a spokesman for business, called the proposal a "defeatist" approach to the unemployment problem.

Great Dream

By John Chamberlain

You may never have heard of the Midland Canal proposition. But now that new substitutes for the obsolescent Panama Canal are being talked about, it should come more and more into the news. Since the pater- nity of the idea of building a canal through the wall of the Alleghenies in West Virginia goes back to George Washington, this is a good day for the whole country to brush up on its possibilities.

Briefly, the proponents of a Midland Canal would like to see ocean-going ships moving from tidewater in George Washington's old State of Virginia to the Ohio River, with locks and long tunnel serving to connect up the deepwater channels of various rivers. Some of the canal enthusiasts even dare propose an ocean-to-ocean submarine-proof inland water route, making use at its western end of the Missouri and Columbia rivers. This would link the vision of Thomas Jefferson, who sent Lewis and Clark to the Pacific via the Missouri, with that of George Washington.

Is this all a mad dream? Well, so West Virginians point out, the St. Lawrence Seaway was once a mad dream. The dream, if it be such, began when General Washington, not yet President of the United States, proposed in 1784 to connect the James River in Virginia with the Kanawha River by utilizing dammed-up mountain creeks, locks and a short tunnel near the crest of the Appalachian divide. Lacking dynamite, bulldozers, power shovels, power drills and trucks, the canal company that Washington and his business associates formed never completed the job. But the proposal had an unlooked-for political and social dividend, for Washington's attempts to get Delaware, Maryland and Virginia to help the canal along by abolishing interstate trade restrictions led to the Annapolis and Philadelphia conventions, which created the framework of the modern United States.

To make George Washington's dream feasible in this century, there would have to be a 96-mile-long tunnel from Natural Bridge Station in Virginia to Deepwater, the head of navigation on the Kanawha River. This would provide cross-country barge access to a point as far west as Sioux City, Iowa, as far south as Texas, as far north as Minnesota, and to the northeastern United States via the Illinois River, the Chicago Canal and the Great Lakes. Nobody has estimated, as yet, the cost of carrying the canal idea through to the Pacific.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's becoming more of a puzzle than a war.

Nobody in this government, past or present, has given the American people a cold, factual report on what's happening or what's in store in South Viet Nam. Various official statements create confusion.

South Viet Nam, after eight years of help from the United States in its war with the Red guerrillas of North Viet Nam, apparently is losing ground.

This country has over 15,000 troops there, supposedly as advisers although some have been killed in the front lines, and has pumped in over $5 billion in aid.

Here are some points that puzzle Americans and probably Vietnamese, too:

Why haven't the latter done more to win? Can they ever do better? Is this country just going to go on rocking along with them? Will it finally give up and pull out? Or will it try to step up the war?

South Viet Nam has had three governments since October but the situation is worse now than before.

President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was in charge eight years but not successfully, was killed when a military junta took over in a coup. The junta was thrown out in a new coup by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

Last Jan. 27 Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress the situation was "grave." The next day he said "I am encouraged by the progress of the past two weeks."

Last week Congress released more of what he said: That even if the war does go well we should still withdraw most American troops by 1965. He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war.

Over the weekend one report from Washington said there was division between the Defense Department and the State Department on what to do. It said some State Department officials felt McNamara's statement on pulling out was bad public relations because it might encourage the Communists.

Also last week Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democrats' Senate leader, applauded McNamara's pull-out idea and urged consideration of French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Viet Nam.

Neutralization has hazards, too. It could be interpreted simply as an American face-saving device for pulling out of a tough situation. Neutralization, once the Americans were gone, might open the door for a Communist take-over of all Viet Nam.

Then last Friday President Johnson said this country will continue to honor its commitment to South Viet Nam to help it fight communism.

Previously he had seemed to dismiss De Gaulle's neutralization idea but at another time he said he would look with sympathy on neutralization of all Viet Nam, North and South.

But Johnson added something else which was truly a puzzle. Pointing to those "outside enemies" who direct "terror and violence" against South Viet Nam, he said they "could do well to remember that this type of aggression is a deeply dangerous game."

But this is exactly the kind of aggression the North Vietnamese Reds have been using for years, except that recently they

South African 'Secret' Society Labeled Klan-like

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—There is not much secrecy in belonging to a secret society in South Africa these days. Newspapers publish lists of member's names, along with rules and instructions. Parliament is threatening to inquire into some societies' affairs.

Despite the publicity, Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd likes his organization so much that he has refused to leave it. He told Parliament, which was debating the effects of secret societies, that he had been a member of the country's leading movement for 25 years.

Opposition members got some amusement from the image of the stern Dr. Verwoerd helping in some of the initiation ceremonies of his society—Die Broederbond (The Brotherhood or Bond of Brothers).

According to the newspaper disclosures, the prime minister would have to dress in his best black suit and sit in a pitch-dark room beside a "corpse" swathed in a black shroud, lying on a bier, and with the word "betrayal" written on it in blood.

He might even have to switch on a light to show a dagger being plunged into the "body" while the initiate would hear a chaplain intone: "He who betrays the bond will be destroyed by the bond."

Cartoonists in antigovernment newspapers depict the Broeders as funny little men wearing Ku Klux Klan-type hoods and cloaks. Serious critics claim the Broederbond is a much more sinister and influential society than the Klan ever was.

During the second world war, Field Marshal Jan Christian

began assassinating Americans, too.

Was Johnson hinting at stepping up the war against North Viet Nam in some way, say through South Vietnamese guerrilla attacks on it? Or what? If the United States took part in a direct attack it might mean war with Red China.

Smuts, then South Africa's prime minister, kept a regular watch on the Bond. Its pro-Nazi attitudes led Smuts to bar government workers from becoming members.

The Broederbond apparently has been in existence 45 years. Its basic aim is to further the cause and interests of the Afrikaner nation—descendants of the early European settlers in South Africa who now form more than half the white population. The remaining whites are mainly of British origin.

From an original membership of 14 in 1918 the number of Broeders has reportedly grown to nearly 8,000, meeting in 350 units throughout the country.

These 8,000, all men and all Afrikaners, become members by invitation only. Few refuse, for membership opens up top positions in government and Afrikaner-influenced organizations.

Members include practically every influential Afrikaner in South Africa—politicians, teachers, government administrators, police officers, bankers and church ministers. Fifteen of the country's 18 Cabinet ministers are Broeders, according to published statements.

From a lowly position in the country's economy and administration 40 years ago, when British-descended people were on top, Afrikaners now dominate South Africa's political scene. Government administration is almost entirely in their hands and they are beginning to control a larger share of the wealth. The Afrikaans language and Afrikaans culture are now well safeguarded.

Ohio's Steel Keeping Pace

Production Hike Follows Trend

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio steelmakers are keeping pace with the national trend in increased steel production, Steel magazine said today.

The Youngstown district advanced to about 65 per cent of capacity as U.S. Steel and Republic Steel added one open hearth each to their active furnace lists. Output for the week was estimated at 195,379 tons, up about 5,000 tons from the week before.

Cleveland area mills, supported by a strong automotive demand, continue to put steel at a relatively high rate, the magazine said.

Nationally, heavy auto and building demands and a broadening of diversified manufacturing needs will push ingot production higher for the ninth consecutive time this week, the metalworking weekly said. There were production increases in Pittsburgh, Chicago and Detroit last week, Steel said.

"Steelmakers may produce as much tonnage in the first half as they did in the like period of 1963 when strike hedging spurred demand artificially," the magazine reported.

Steelmakers are stepping up their output to keep deliveries current and increase their in-plant inventories.

As mill order backlogs mount, output this week will exceed the 2,305,000 ingot tons the magazine estimates the industry poured last week, Steel said.

Market analysts predict first quarter production will reach 29.2 million tons—2.5 million tons more than in the first quarter of 1963, Steel said.

The scrap market declined for the fourth straight week last week, Steel said. Steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting was down 34 cents to $28.33 a gross ton.

Red China Is One-Tooth Dragon As Result of Split with Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without Soviet military aid, Red China is a one-tooth dragon.

So long as the Sino-Soviet split continues over how best to attain world communism, it is one of the most important political facts in the world today.

The United States' view of Red China, sans Soviet military aid, was presented in a little-noticed speech last year by Roger Hillsman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

He said: "The free nations of Asia are by no means out of danger. Communist China is still capable of grave and costly mischief. But it is not a formidable power in terms of modern technology."

Any armed force with claims to modernity operates on pieces of paper. The Red Chinese are no exception. Tables of equipment and organization have to be issued. Tactical doctrine has to be published. A great many of these papers have found their way into the West.

In terms of manpower, Red China now has the world's largest standing armed force: 2.8 million men. The army consists of an estimated 2.5 million men; the others are in the technical services and air force.

Insofar as Western intelligence knows, China is not yet a nuclear power, but for 10 years China has sheltered beneath the nuclear umbrella raised by the Soviet Union.

Now there is an ideological split between Red China and the Soviet Union. Whether this means a removal of the Soviet nuclear shield is a matter of debate.

But there is no debate over the fact that the Soviets have withdrawn technical aid from the mainland Chinese.

There are U.S. intelligence estimates which indicate the fires of military adventurism within the Red Chinese dragon have been dampened considerably by the Soviets' action.

In assessing Red China's military capabilities and intentions a Washington intelligence source said: "The Chinese can make a lot of trouble around their borders, but you can make a fair case that if these people are reasonably realistic, they will steer clear of anything that would involve a straight-out confrontation with the United States."

One source said: "The Red Chinese air force has to be pretty damn poor these days."

He said it was doubtful whether the Red Chinese had been able to produce any aircraft of their own and reports indicate they have not received any from the Soviet Union in three years.

U.S. intelligence now believes the Red Chinese air force consists mainly of obsolescent MIG 15s, MIG 17s and "some few" MIG 19s, similar to the F86s the United States used in the Korean war.

As late as 1960 Western reports estimated the Red Chinese had an air force of 2,500 to 3,000 aircraft.

Now, said one source, the Red Chinese air force is believed to be "slightly under 2,000 planes, including maybe 300 to 400 IL 28s." The IL 28 is a medium bomber.

The source said the only items the Soviets are still supplying the Red Chinese in quantity is aviation gasoline and jet fuel.

The source estimated the army strength as 110 to 120 divisions of 12,000 to 15,000 men each. About 10 per cent of these divisions, he said, are believed to be motorized.

While each division may have as many as 400 vehicles, he said, most material used by the infantry has to be carried by coolies.

In brief, the Red Chinese army's mobility is believed to be fairly limited. This has prompted the Chinese to distribute the army by regions, maintaining large concentrations near centers of population.

Another factor hampering mobility is a lack of food reserves, the source said, noting that the Chinese soldier in camp is expected to grow his own food.

All boiled down, the source continued, it means that the Chinese would have to fight, wherever confronted, with what they had on hand and with little hope of reinforcement or resupply.

As for China's industrial resources, Po Yi-po, chairman of the State Economic Commission, estimated in February that Red China's iron and steel production was 18 million tons a year, much of it of "poor quality." U.S. steel capacity is about 104 million tons annually.

One of the sources noted that since Korea the Chinese have not placed a single soldier of their own in a position to confront a U.S. soldier.

In summary, U.S. intelligence forces believe the Chinese will not undertake a large military thrust outward in the immediate future, but will try to bring the areas around its southern borders into the Communist camp through guerrilla activity.

There have been reports of unrest in the Chinese army. These the source discounted. "The officer corps is as reliable as any element of Chinese society," he asserted.

The source said the Red Chinese were acutely aware of their own vulnerability.

"When we used weed killers—defoliants—in Viet Nam to uncover ambush sites," he said, "the Chinese reacted loudly. They know these same chemicals can be used against crops, that we don't necessarily need the atom bomb."

Quaker Group Sees, Denounces Berlin Wall

BERLIN (AP)—Maurice Keaton, dean of faculty at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, was one of six Americans in a group of eight Quakers who have denounced the Berlin Wall.

The Quakers, reporting Sunday on their visit to East and West Germany last September, said they also found a sort of Western Wall in a policy that prevents many prominent East Germans from traveling to any NATO County outside Germany. The group's response to the travel issue: "We were not convinced that two wrongs made a right."

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's becoming more of a puzzle than a war.

Nobody in this government, past or present, has given the American people a cold, factual report on what's happening or what's in store in South Viet Nam. Various official statements create confusion.

South Viet Nam, after eight years of help from the United States in its war with the Red guerrillas of North Viet Nam, apparently is losing ground.

This country has over 15,000 troops there, supposedly as advisers although some have been killed in the front lines, and has pumped in over $5 billion in aid.

Here are some points that puzzle Americans and probably Vietnamese, too:

Why haven't the latter done more to win? Can they ever do better? Is this country just going to go on rocking along with them? Will it finally give up and pull out? Or will it try to step up the war?

South Viet Nam has had three governments since October but the situation is worse now than before.

President Ngo Dinh Diem, who was in charge eight years but not successfully, was killed when a military junta took over in a coup. The junta was thrown out in a new coup by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

Last Jan. 27 Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told Congress the situation was "grave." The next day he said "I am encouraged by the progress of the past two weeks."

Last week Congress released more of what he said: That even if the war does not go well we should still withdraw most American troops by 1965. He said the Vietnamese had the primary responsibility for winning the war.

Over the weekend one report from Washington said there was division between the Defense Department and the State Department on what to do. It said some State Department officials felt McNamara's statement on pulling out was bad public relations because it might encourage the Communists.

Also last week Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democrats' Senate leader, applauded McNamara's pull-out idea and urged consideration of French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Viet Nam.

Neutralization has hazards, too. It could be interpreted simply as an American face-saving device for pulling out of a tough situation. Neutralization, once the Americans were gone, might open the door for a Communist take-over of all Viet Nam.

Then last Friday President Johnson said this country will continue to honor its commitment to South Viet Nam to help it fight communism.

Previously he had seemed to dismiss De Gaulle's neutralization idea but at another time he said he would look with sympathy on neutralization of all Viet Nam, North and South.

But Johnson added something else which was truly a puzzle. Pointing to those "outside enemies" who direct "terror and violence" against South Viet Nam, he said they "could do well to remember that this type of aggression is a deeply dangerous game."

But this is exactly the kind of aggression the North Vietnamese Reds have been using for years, except that recently they began assassinating Americans, too.

Was Johnson hinting at stepping up the war against North Viet Nam in some way, say through South Vietnamese guerrilla attacks on it? Or what? If the United States took part in a direct attack it might mean war with Red China.

South African 'Secret' Society Labeled Klan-like

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—There is not much secrecy in belonging to a secret society in South Africa these days. Newspapers publish lists of member's names, along with rules and instructions. Parliament is threatening to inquire into some societies' affairs.

Despite the publicity, Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd likes his organization so much that he has refused to leave it. He told Parliament, which was debating the effects of secret societies, that he had been a member of the country's leading movement for 25 years.

Opposition members got some amusement from the image of the stern Dr. Verwoerd helping in some of the initiation ceremonies of his society—Die Broederbond (The Brotherhood or Bond of Brothers).

According to the newspaper disclosures, the prime minister would have to dress in his best black suit and sit in a pitch-dark room beside a "corpse" swathed in a black shroud, lying on a bier, and with the word "betrayal" written on it in blood.

He might even have to switch on a light to show a dagger being plunged into the "body" while the initiate would hear a chaplain intone: "He who betrays the bond will be destroyed by the bond."

Cartoonists in antigovernment newspapers depict the Broeders as funny little men wearing Ku Klux Klan-type hoods and cloaks. Serious critics claim the Broederbond is a much more sinister and influential society than the Klan ever was.

During the second world war, Field Marshal Jan Christian

Smuts, then South Africa's prime minister, kept a regular watch on the Bond. Its pro-Nazi attitudes led Smuts to bar government workers from becoming members.

The Broederbond apparently has been in existence 45 years. Its basic aim is to further the cause and interests of the Afrikaner nation—descendants of the early European settlers in South Africa who now form more than half the white population. The remaining whites are mainly of British origin.

From an original membership of 14 in 1918 the number of Broeders has reportedly grown to nearly 8,000, meeting in 350 units throughout the country.

These 8,000, all men and all Afrikaners, become members by invitation only. Few refuse, for membership opens up top positions in government and Afrikaner-influenced organizations.

Members include practically every influential Afrikaner in South Africa—politicians, teachers, government administrators, police officers, bankers and church ministers. Fifteen of the country's 18 Cabinet ministers are Broeders, according to published statements.

From a lowly position in the country's economy and administration 40 years ago, when British-descended people were on top, Afrikaners now dominate South Africa's political scene. Government administration is almost entirely in their hands and they are beginning to control a larger share of the wealth. The Afrikaans language and Afrikaans culture are now well safeguarded.

JACKSON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff John Evans awaited a coroner's report today to confirm what appeared to be homicide in the death of Henry Hall, 65, in his home near Oak Hill.

Hall's body was found Saturday night. The sheriff said it appeared the retired brickworker had been struck several times with a blunt object, probably a night earlier.

Ohio's Steel Keeping Pace

Production Hike Follows Trend

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio steelmakers are keeping pace with the national trend in increased steel production, Steel magazine said today.

The Youngstown district advanced to about 65 per cent of capacity as U.S. Steel and Republic Steel added one open hearth each to their active furnace lists. Output for the week was estimated at 195,379 tons, up about 5,000 tons from the week before.

Cleveland area mills, supported by a strong automotive demand, continue to put steel at a relatively high rate, the magazine said.

Nationally, heavy auto and building demands and a broadening of diversified manufacturing needs will push ingot production higher for the ninth consecutive time this week, the metalworking weekly said. There were production increases in Pittsburgh, Chicago and Detroit last week, Steel said.

"Steelmakers may produce as much tonnage in the first half as they did in the like period of 1963 when strike hedging spurred demand artificially," the magazine reported.

Steelmakers are stepping up their output to keep deliveries current and increase their in-plant inventories.

As mill order backlogs mount, output this week will exceed the 2,305,000 ingot tons the magazine estimates the industry poured last week, Steel said.

Market analysts predict first quarter production will reach 29.2 million tons — 2.5 million tons more than in the first quarter of 1963, Steel said.

The scrap market declined for the fourth straight week last week, Steel said. Steel's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting was down 34 cents to $28.33 a gross ton.

Red China Is One-Tooth Dragon As Result of Split with Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without Soviet military aid, Red China is a one-tooth dragon.

So long as the Sino-Soviet split continues over how best to attain world communism, it is one of the most important political facts in the world today.

The United States' view of Red China, sans Soviet military aid, was presented in a little-noticed speech last year by Roger Hillsman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

He said: "The free nations of Asia are by no means out of danger. Communist China is still capable of grave and costly mischief. But it is not a formidable power in terms of modern technology."

Any armed force with claims to modernity operates on pieces of paper. The Red Chinese are no exception. Tables of equipment and organization have to be issued. Tactical doctrine has to be published. A great many of these papers have found their way into the West.

In terms of manpower, Red China now has the world's largest standing armed force: 2.8 million men. The army consists of an estimated 2.5 million men; the others are in the technical services and air force.

Insofar as Western intelligence knows, China is not yet a nuclear power, but for 10 years China was sheltered beneath the nuclear umbrella raised by the Soviet Union.

Now there is an ideological split between Red China and the Soviet Union. Whether this means a removal of the Soviet nuclear shield is a matter of debate.

But there is no debate over the fact that the Soviets have withdrawn technical aid from the mainland Chinese.

There are U.S. intelligence estimates which indicate the fires of military adventurism within the Red Chinese dragon have been dampened considerably by the Soviets' action.

In assessing Red China's military capabilities and intentions a Washington intelligence source said: "The Chinese can make a lot of trouble around their borders, but you can make a fair case that if these people are reasonably realistic, they will steer clear of anything that would involve a straight-out confrontation with the United States."

One source said: "The Red Chinese air force has to be pretty damn poor these days."

He said it was doubtful whether the Red Chinese had been able to produce any aircraft of their own and reports indicate they have not received any from the Soviet Union in three years.

U.S. intelligence now believes the Red Chinese air force consists mainly of obsolescent MIG 15s, MIG 17s and "some few" MIG 19s, similar to the F86s the United States used in the Korean war.

As late as 1960 Western reports estimated the Red Chinese had an air force of 2,500 to 3,000 aircraft.

Now, said one source, the Red Chinese air force is believed to be "slightly under 2,000 planes, including maybe 300 to 400 IL 28s." The IL 28 is a medium bomber.

The source said the only item the Soviets are still supplying the Red Chinese in quantity is aviation gasoline and jet fuel.

The source estimated the army strength as 110 to 120 divisions of 12,000 to 15,000 men each. About 10 per cent of these divisions, he said, are believed to be motorized.

While each division may have as many as 400 vehicles, he said, most material used by the infantry has to be carried by coolies.

In brief, the Red Chinese army's mobility is believed to be fairly limited. This has prompted the Chinese to distribute the army by rebions, maintaining large concentrations near centers of population.

Another factor hampering mobility is a lack of food reserves, the source said, noting that the Chinese soldier in camp is expected to grow his own food.

All boiled down, the source continued, it means that the Chinese would have to fight, wherever confronted, with what they had on hand and with little hope of reinforcement or resupply.

As for China's industrial resources, Po Yi-po, chairman of the State Economic Commission, estimated in February that Red China's iron and steel production was 18 million tons a year, much of it of "poor quality." U.S. steel capacity is about 104 million tons annually.

There have been reports of unrest in the Chinese army. These the source discounted. "The officer corps is as reliable as any element of Chinese society," he asserted.

The source said the Red Chinese were a cutely aware of their own vulnerability.

"When we used weed killers—defoliants—in Viet Nam to uncover ambush sites," he said, "the Chinese reacted loudly. They know these same chemicals can be used against crops, that we don't necessarily need the atom bomb."

The Rev. Carl Wetherell performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with two seven-branch candelabra flanking a floral tree of double California stock, ivy and white anemone gladioli.

Mrs. Robert Browning presented a program of nuptial selections.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown designed with a molded basque bodice overlaid with Chantilly lace scattered with iridescent sequins and pearls, a scalloped neckline and long tapering sleeves extending to points over the hands. The skirt was fashioned with tiers of Chantilly lace over a hoop and highlighted with roses of lace. A crown of iridescent sequins and pearls held her lace bordered finger veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade of double California stock and ivy centered with cymbidium orchids.

Miss Judith Anne Gulick, Columbus, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Jean Marie Gulick of Orient, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical street length dresses of azalea pink sheer over taffeta each designed with a scooped neckline, elbow length sleeves and sheath skirt with a full overskirt fastened in front with a soft fabric bow. Floral headpieces of double California stock and ivy with azalea pink veiling completed their ensembles. Each carried a cascade of white Fuji mums and ivy.

Mr. Harold Breakfield, served his brother as best man. Roy Liming, cousin of the bridegroom, was usher.

Mrs. Gulick chose for her daughter's wedding a turquoise silk sheath dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece blue print crepe dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white shattered carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

A reception was held at Scioto Twp. School cafeteria immediately following the ceremony. The room was decorated with pink and white streamers centered by two bells. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with white doves, bells and pink roses topped with a miniature bride and groom under a nylon arch holding a bell and wedding rings. Hostesses were Mrs. Harold Gulick, Route 1, Orient, and Miss Judy Richardson, Columbus.

For her going away costume the bride wore a tweed suit, which she made, and the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The new Mrs. Breakfield attended Scioto Twp. High School and is employed by the Federal Government in Washington D.C.

Mr. Breakfield attended Port William High School and is serving in the U. S. Navy.

Following the reception the bride party went to the home of the bridegroom's parents for a dinner before the couple left by plane for Washington D. C. where they will reside.

Pre-nuptial parties given for the couple included a shower by Mrs. Charles Crone and Mrs. Wayne Jinks in Washington C. H.; a shower by Miss Judy Richardson, Mrs. Robert C. Hill and Mrs. Pearl Gochenour at the home of the bride's parents; a shower at Port William Methodist Church given by a committee from the church and a rehearsal party at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Carmean Is Honored With Shower

Mrs. David Carmean was honored with a miscellaneous shower recently in the home of Mrs. Richard Beavers. Mrs. William Beavers was co-hostess.

Green and white were the colors used in decorations. A white wedding bell was suspended from the ceiling and white streamers extended to the gift table which was centered with a bride doll.

Prizes won in the games were given to the guest of honor.

A dessert course was served the following: Mrs. Paul Tee-gardin, Circleville; Mrs. Clarence Donahue and daughter, Nancy, Mrs. Paul Russell and daughter, Julie, Mrs. Lewis Elliott and Mrs. Henry Seymour, all of Chillicothe; Mrs. Don Beavers, Mrs. William Raub, Mrs. William Moss, Mrs. Sherman Rhoades, Mrs. Jack Donahue, Mrs. Paul Edler, Mrs. Robert Ebert, Mrs. Curtis Hanley, Mrs. Howard Beavers, Miss Cindy Donahue, Miss Carol Sue Carmean and Miss Lois Beavers, all of Kingston.

Gifts were sent by Mrs. Lee Davis, Circleville; Mrs. Riley Iretton, Mrs. Thurman Beavers, Miss Judy Beavers, Chillicothe; Mrs. Charles Hardin and Miss Jeanne Beavers, Kingston.

Those Paris Necklines Bring Cry of Oo-la-la

PARIS (AP)—Oo-la-la, those Paris fashion necklines! That was the comment buzzing through haute couture circles today as famous fashion houses released photographs of the spring and summer models they displayed for buyers and fashion writers in showings that ended three weeks ago.

The hemlines remained about the same—generally covering the knees. But the neckline... well—

Neckline varied from a sexy, low-cut daring depth to scooped-out fronts.

Suit necklines and blouses are built up, with suits featuring white linen collars and cuffs and blouses with large pussy cat or butterfly bows to short narrow ascots, worn off center.

If hemlines are at a status quo, interest is lent by pleating, multiple, sunray, fan, accordion, or shutter. Kerchief points appear on dressy sheer fabrics, scallops and flying pleated panels on daytime shirts and dresses.

Focus is on the waistline, which tends to drop to the hips either by a low-placed belt, martingale or bows, or a fool-the-eye pointed yoke.

Focus, too, is on shoulders. They are arched, sometimes built out or slightly puffed.

Every designer is talking about shape achieved through skilled cut and intricate seaming.

Suits look younger with their just-below-the-hip-bone jackets, pleated skirts and cut, which fits the body closer.

18 Auxiliary Members Attend Meet

Elaine Ford, president, conducted the meeting when the FOE Auxiliary No. 685 met in the Aerie home. Mrs. Fran Van-is, grand trustee, Geneva, O., was a guest.

Plans were discussed for the prep meeting to be held Saturday and the Central Zone Conference to be held April 11-12. Mrs. Pauline Kennedy was appointed chairman.

Contributions were approved for two organizations: the "Keep 'em Flying" program which was instituted to preserve the golden eagle under the Bald Eagle Act; the fund for High Sky Girls Ranch, Midland, Texas, a home dedicated to the future of girls, age 10-18, throughout the United States, which is a non-profit organization for the care of dependent - neglected girls.

Mrs. Ruth Booth prepared refreshments. There were 18 members present.

Mrs. Minia North was named chairman of the food committee for the Mar. 5 meeting at the Aerie home.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren How To Quit Smoking

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago you had a whole column of letters on how to quit smoking. Would you please consider running it again?

"NEEDS IT" IN PHILLY
DEAR "NEEDS IT": With pleasure!

DEAR ABBY: My man smoked three packs of cigarettes a day and used up a whole box of snuff, too. He said that his mouth felt like the bottom of a bird cage. He got a prescription guaranteed to curb his desire for smoking. I don't know what it was, but I know I saw a miracle happen because my husband hasn't smoked in four years.

OLLIE'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: One day, 12 years ago, I decided that smoking was a filthy, stupid and expensive habit, so I made up my mind to quit. This is what I did. The moment I walked into a room I announced, "I'VE QUIT SMOKING." After that I couldn't very well bum a cigarette off anyone, and I didn't carry them myself. I knew that I didn't dare beg a smoke or I'd make myself look like a real jerk. It was a matter of pride.

NO JERK

DEAR ABBY: After having the cigarette habit for 40 years, I took my cigarettes out of my pocket and said, "You have been bossing me around for 40 years, now I am going to boss YOU around." I put away the pack and never smoked again. That was 15 years ago. I'm now 92 and feel fine.

W.H.E.

DEAR ABBY: When I had to have a cigarette before I could open my eyes fully in the morning, I knew I had better quit. I tried to taper off, but that never works. I finally walked into a church one morning (it wasn't even of my own denomination), got down on my knees and prayed to God to deliver me of the habit. And do you know, I haven't smoked or even had the desire to since? When everything else fails, try prayer.

ORDINARY GUY

DEAR ABBY: My husband smoked like a chimney. He had lung X-ray taken at the suggestion of his physician. A dark shadow was discovered on his lung. Fortunately it was NOT cancer, but my husband snipped off that part of the X-ray and taped it to a package of cigarettes. He carries it with him constantly and now every time he is tempted to smoke, he looks at that X-ray and takes a peppermint drop instead.

GRATEFUL

DEAR ABBY: Here is a proven method for overcoming the cigarette habit. If a person smokes 40 cigarettes a day, he should cut down to 39 the first day, 38 the second, 37 the third and so forth. It takes a lot of willpower, but if I could do it (I was a four-pack-a-day smoker for 32 years) anybody can.

WILLPOWER

DEAR ABBY: A psychologist once told me that in order to break a habit, substitute another one. So, instead of reaching for a cigarette, reach for a piece of gum, a carrot stick or a piece of licorice. It really works. When you finally get your sense of taste and smell back again, you will never go back to smoking. It happened to me after 30 years.

SUBSTITUTE

DEAR ABBY: I sat down one day, at the age of 48, and started to add up the amount of money I had spent for cigars since I started to smoke them at the age of 24. When I realized that $5,000 had gone up in smoke, I lost my appetite for smoking.

SMART TOO LATE

A couple of extra egg yolks on hand? Add them to three cups of hot mashed potatoes, spoon into a shallow dish; sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese and brown in a hot oven or under the broiler.

Try the Hungarian way of mixing beef and veal (in equal proportions) when you are preparing a goulash.

Carlynn Gulick Becomes Bride of Tom Breakfield

MRS. TOM BREAKFIELD

Miss Carlynn Gulick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gulick, Route 1, Orient, became the bride of Mr. Tom Breakfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Breakfield, Route 2, Jamestown, 1:30 p. m. Feb. 1 in Commercial Point Methodist Church.

The Rev. Carl Wetherell performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with two seven-branch candelabra flanking a floral tree of double California stock, ivy and white anemone gladioli.

Mrs. Robert Browning presented a program of nuptial selections.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown designed with a molded bodice overlaid with Chantilly lace scattered with iridescents, sequins and pearls, a scalloped neckline and long tapering sleeves extending to points over the hands. The skirt was fashioned with tiers of Chantilly lace over a hoop and highlighted with roses of lace. A crown of iridescents sequins and pearls held her lace bordered fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade of double California stock and ivy centered with cymbidium orchids.

Miss Judith Anne Gulick, Columbus, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Jean Marie Gulick of Orient, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. They wore identical street length dresses of azalea pink sheer over taffeta each designed with a scooped neckline, elbow length sleeves and sheath skirt with a full overskirt fastened in front with a soft fabric bow. Floral headpieces of double California stock and ivy with azalea pink veiling completed their ensembles. Each carried a cascade of white Fuji mums and ivy.

Mr. Harold Breakfield, served his brother as best man. Mr. Roy Liming, cousin of the bridegroom, was usher.

Mrs. Gulick chose for her daughter's wedding a turquoise silk sheath dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece blue print crepe dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white shattered carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

A reception was held at Scioto Twp. School cafeteria immediately following the ceremony. The room was decorated with pink and white streamers centered by two bells. The table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with white doves, bells and pink roses topped with a miniature bride and groom under a nylon arch holding a bell and wedding rings. Hostesses were Mrs. Harold Gulick, Route 1, Orient, and Miss Judy Richardson, Columbus.

For her going away costume the bride wore a tweed suit, which she made, and the orchids from her bridal bouquet. The new Mrs. Breakfield attended Scioto Twp. High School and is employed by the Federal Government in Washington D.C. Mr. Breakfield attended Port William High School and is serving in the U. S. Navy.

Following the reception the bridal party went to the home of the bridegroom's parents for a dinner before the couple left by plane for Washington D. C. where they will reside.

Pre-nuptial parties given for the couple included a shower by Mrs. Charles Crone and Mrs. Wayne Jinks in Washington C. H.; a shower by Miss Judy Richardson, Mrs. Robert C. Hill and Mrs. Pearl Gochenour at the home of the bride's parents; a shower at Port William Methodist Church given by a committee from the church and a rehearsal party at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Carmean Is Honored With Shower

Mrs. David Carmean was honored with a miscellaneous shower recently in the home of Mrs. Richard Beavers. Mrs. William Beavers was co-hostess.

Green and white were the colors used in decorations. A white wedding bell was suspended from the ceiling and white streamers extended to the gift table which was centered with a bride doll.

Prizes won in the games were given to the guest of honor.

A dessert course was served the following: Mrs. Paul Teegardin, Circleville; Mrs. Clarence Donahue and daughter, Nancy, Mrs. Paul Russell and daughter, Julie, Mrs. Lewis Elliott and Mrs. Henry Seymour, all of Chillicothe; Mrs. Don Beavers, Mrs. William Raub, Mrs. William Moss, Mrs. Sherman Rhoades, Mrs. Jack Donahue, Mrs. Paul Edler, Mrs. Robert Ebert, Mrs. Curtis Hanley, Mrs. Howard Beavers, Miss Cindy Donahue, Miss Carol Sue Carmean and Miss Lois Beavers, all of Kingston.

Gifts were sent by Mrs. Lee Davis, Circleville; Mrs. Riley Ireton, Mrs. Thurman Beavers, Miss Judy Beavers, Chillicothe; Mrs. Charles Hardin and Miss Jeanne Beavers, Kingston.

SMITH IN ORBIT — Tom Smith becomes airborne as he drives for a basket in the tilt between the Pirates and the Tigers of Circleville. Columbus Central will now play Teays Valley 9:30 p. m. Friday in the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Circleville Tigers Dropped From Tourney by Central

By STEVE JONES

It was a case of too much speed for the Circleville Tigers Saturday morning when they lost their second start in the Class AA Central District tournament to Columbus Central, 70-51, in the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The Tigers got off to a bad start against the speedy quintet from Columbus, hitting only two of 15 tries from the field in the first quarter, and could never catch up. They pulled within seven points at the end of the third period.

Circleville fell behind 16-8 in the first period. They then proceeded to match the Pirates point for point in the second canto — both teams scored 10 — and outscored them in the third period — CHS tallied 19 while the winners came up with 18. But Circleville's Tom Smith picked up his fifth foul late in the third quarter. John Thomas was charged with his fifth personal shortly after the final period began.

IN THE FINAL eight minutes, the Pirates rolled up 26 points while Circleville could score only 14.

The Pirates fast break although erratic, was too much for the Circleville cagers to contain.

Central now will meet Teays Valley in a game scheduled to begin 9:30 p. m. Friday in the Coliseum at the State Fairgrounds in Columbus.

Dave Bass started the scoring for the Tigers when he cashed in on a free throw with two minutes of the game under way. He came back one minute later to score the first field goal for the Red and Black.

The quarter was almost over before the Tigers got back in the scoring column. Bass hit another charity toss with a little more than a minute left and then John Thomas poured through a pair from the foul line.

Just as the buzzer sounded, Ron Seward tossed the ball through the nets to account for the Tigers' eighth first quarter points.

SMITH started the second quarter for Circleville, scoring two field goals while the Central Pirates were getting one. Smith notched seven of his 14 points in the second frame. His next seven points were in the third period.

At the end of the third quarter Thomas notched four quick points on a field goal and two foul shots to cut the Pirate lead to seven points. But from that point on it was strictly Central's game.

Smith scored his 14 points on four field goals and six charity tosses. Thomas hit for 10 during the game with a pair from the field and six at the foul stripe. Those were the lone two Tiger cagers to hit double figures.

Bass, who started at guard, came up with nine points, Bob Purcell had six, Seward contributed five, John Maxwell scored three and Doug Price and Chet Iery each made two. The Tigers finished the game scoring 14 field goals in 66 attempts for an embarrassingly low 21 per cent average.

CENTRAL on the other hand, hit 28 of 44 tries for an acceptable 64 per cent field goal shooting average.

Ron and Don Bell provided Central with a "twin" scoring punch as the brothers tallied 14 points each on identical totals of six field goals and two foul shots.

Chandler added 10 points for the winners as nine Pirates broke into the scoring column. At the foul line Circleville fared a little better than the winners, canning 23 of 37 attempts. Central netted 14 in

Fenwick Unit Downs Plains In 58-55 Test

King Paces Irish Win with 28 Points And 19 Rebounds

Lancaster Bishop Fenwick earned a shot at Williamsport in the lower bracket finals of the Teays Valley sectional tournament Saturday by edging The Plains of Mt. Sterling, 58-55.

Outcome of the game between the Blue Devils and the Fenwick Irish, was in doubt all the way.

At the end of the first quarter, the Irish held a 12-9 lead. However, the Blue Devils fought back and were leading 30-29 at halftime.

As the final period began, Fenwick was again on top, this time by a 43-40 margin.

THE LOSERS actually outscored the Irish from the field by six points. But they had only 15 chances at the charity stripe and could convert on a scant seven for a 47 per cent average.

Fenwick's average was little better at 48 per cent, but they stepped to the line 33 times, hitting 16 to provide the winning margin.

Joe King, Fenwick's big and powerful center, kept the Irish in the game with his furious rebounding. He was also the leading scorer in the game, tallying 28 points on 10 field goals and eight charity tosses.

King hauled 19 rebounds off the boards. As a team, the Irish collected 37 rebounds while the losers had only 28.

In the first half the Irish fired away at the bucket 35 times, connecting on 11. But in the second period, Pete Mudre's charges changed their tactics completely, playing strictly for the good shot.

Against the pressing man-to-man defense used by The Plains in the second half, Mudre had his players spread their offensive pattern.

THEY SHOT only 14 times, but they hit 10 of these shots and picked up a number of fouls.

High point man for the losers was Dano Starr with 17. Boone Hall contributed 15 to the losing effort.

Logan Elm Posts 70-59 Decision

BRAVE DRIVES — Gary Hardman, Logan Elm's veteran guard, moves around Ted Clemans (45) and Jim Moats (35) of Madison South to score in the game won by Logan Elm. The Braves will meet Berne Union 8 p. m. Friday as they continue their defense of the sectional and district crowns.

The Logan Elm Braves exploded for 26 points in the third quarter Saturday in the Teays Valley sectional tournament to defeat Madison South, 70-59, before less than 700 fans.

The win earns the Braves a shot at Berne Union in the upper bracket finals of the event beginning 8 p. m. Friday.

Logan Elm got off to a slow start and was down by five at one point in the first quarter. By the beginning of the second period the Braves had knotted the score at 12-12.

In the second quarter they poured through two quick baskets to take the lead but soon fell behind the Madison South quintet, and could not regain the lead before the half when the score was 29-27 with the eventual losers on top.

THE SCORE was tied six times in the second quarter but South managed to maintain a slight edge.

Whatever Keith Merrin told his charges when they went to the dressing room at halftime was apparently the right formula, for they came out that third quarter, jumped to a lead in less than two minutes and never trailed again in the ball game.

Madison South was handicapped in that period when their ace offensive player Ted Clemans, picked up his fourth personal foul. He spent almost the entire period on the bench, and his teammates could score only nine points without him.

In the final period he came back into the game, but the damage was already done. Madison South could get no closer than the 11 point final margin.

Clemans salvaged some measure of honor for his Madison South quintet as he scored 29 points on seven field goals and 15 foul shots. He only missed three foul shots in the game.

He was the only consistent scorer for the losers. Larry Reigel hit double figures with 10 points on two field goals and six charity tosses.

THE BRAVES, on the other hand, picked up double figure performances from four of the five starters.

Gary Hardman, their tournament hardened guard, paced the win with six field goals and 12 foul shots for a total of 24 markers.

From the forward slot, Jeff Lutz tallied 16 points on six field goals and four foul shots. Hardman's running mate at guard, Rick Shaw, added 15 points to the attack on seven field goals and one foul shot while the starting pivot man, Darryl Reichelderfer, scored ten points.

Arnie Gabriel, who has been starting at guard all season for the Braves, was sidelined with the mumps.

At the foul line the Braves hit 24 of 38 shots for a 63 per cent average. Although Madison South had only 30 chances, they converted a total of 25 for an 83 per cent average.

From the field the winners hit 23 of 50 shots while the losers 17 of 53.

Jackson Loses 66-42 Tilt to Berne Union

The third time proved to be no charm for the Jackson Wildcats Saturday night at Teays Valley as they lost again to Berne Union of Fairfield County, 66-42.

In two previous meetings this year the teams split. The Wildcats won the opening game from Rockets at Sugar Grove where the school is located.

The Rockets have more than avenged that loss by defeating the Wildcats, first in the final game of the season for both units and now in tournament competition.

The Rockets will now tangle with the Logan Elm Braves at 8 p. m. Friday in the sectional finals at Teays Valley High School.

THE WILDCATS couldn't get started Saturday night, turning in one of their poorest shooting performances of the year. In the first half they connected on six of 27 attempts and in the second on eight of 31 to finish the game with a 26 per cent average.

And while they were suffering this cold shooting, the Rockets of Brown Feix were controlling the boards. This domination of the rebounding was probably the big difference in the two teams. The winners cleared the boards 39 times and Jackson had only 27.

The winners had a definite overall height advantage with big Mac McGrew, a strong 6-foot 3-inch senior, at center, and two 6 foot plus forwards in Red Groves and Keith Miller.

The outside shooting of Ken Staten was also a telling factor. He killed Jackson in the first half when he picked up 15 of his 17 total points. Overall he had eight field goals and one foul shot before fouling out with a little more than six minutes of playing time remaining.

His performance was backed by three other Rockets who also hit double figures. They were Groves with 14, McGrew with 11 and Miller with 10.

High point man for the Jackson Wildcats was Dwight Whaley who picked up 10 points on the three field goals and four foul shots.

AS USUAL, the Jackson scoring was fairly evenly divided. Bruce List contributed eight points to the team effort. Steve Neff added seven, Ed Martinale scored six and Ray Mowery finished with five.

Meredith O'Dell, picked up two quick field goals in a relief effort for four points and Jeff Eitel scored one field goal.

Jackson was the third Westfall School to end a long history of basketball. Next year Jackson students will be attending the new Westfall High School, currently under construction at Pherson.

Finley Agrees To 4-Year Park Lease

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP) — Charles O. Finley did an about face Sunday night and decided to accept a four-year lease to have his Athletics play in Kansas City. But his battle with the American League appeared a long way from being settled.

Finley's decision from his La Porte home came 48 hours after the league had voted 9-1 to take steps to expel the stormy owner of the Kansas City baseball club.

American League President Joe Cronin was in the process of calling a meeting for Finley's ouster and disenfranchisement when Finley came up with his surprise acceptance.

Following Friday's vote against him, Finley, through his attorney, Louis Nizer, said he would make no further move until after the next league meeting which now becomes unnecessary.

However, The Associated Press previously quoted a reliable source that Nizer had advised Finley to let himself be forced into accepting a contract, which the league called "fair and reasonable," and then sue the league because he was made to sign under duress a contract he didn't want.

HAMMAN MOVES — Tom Hamman, Williamsport, threads between Ken Drummond (22) and Dannie Bowen (32) of Darby in a game played Saturday afternoon in the Teays Valley sectional tournament. Williamsport won and will play Lancaster Bishop Fenwick 8 p. m. Saturday.

Williamsport proved to be too much for the Darby Trojans Saturday afternoon in the Teays Valley sectional tournament as the Deers romped to a 69-37 victory.

Darby did not even score in the first eight minutes of the game, and it was not until there was 4:33 to go in the second quarter they hit their first field goal.

Ned Reichelderfer's charges tried stalling tactics in the first quarter to hold down the usual high scoring Williamsport offense.

Darby did not take a shot for the first four minutes of the game, and in the entire first quarter the Trojans fired from the field only six times.

THE DELAYING tactics were to no avail as the Trojans trailed 12-0 at the end of the first period of play.

In the second quarter the Trojans began to shoot a little more from the field and by halftime they had tallied 14 points. However the Deers had scored 16 points during the same period of time and the score was 28-14 as the two teams went into their dressing rooms.

In the third quarter Williamsport marched for 20 markers while Darby was adding 12 to their total and in the final eight minutes of play Williamsport scored 21 and Darby tallied 11.

The Deers hit over 60 per cent of their field goal attempts. From the foul line they cashed in on 13 of 19 tries while the Trojans tallied nine of 19.

Rick Fenstermaker paced the Williamsport offense with 18 points although he had to share game honors with Dave Rowland of Darby who also had 18. Fenstermaker tallied seven field goals and four charity tosses while Rowland converted five from the field and eight from the free throw line.

Larry Beard came through with a 17 point performance for the winners and helped the Deers cause as they almost completely dominated the rebounding.

DARBY'S center, Ken Drummond, left the game with five personals just before the third quarter came to an end.

For the Trojans, it was the 13th loss against four wins and the last game ever.

Next year they will be consolidated with their foes of Saturday, Monroe and Jackson in the Westfall School District.

Williamsport picked up its 16th win of the season against five losses. They will meet Lancaster Fenwick 8 p. m. Saturday in the lower bracket finals of the sectional tournament.

Circleville Tigers Dropped From Tourney by Central

By STEVE JONES

It was a case of too much speed for the Circleville Tigers Saturday morning when they lost their second start in the Class AA Central District tournament to Columbus Central, 70-51, in the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The Tigers got off to a bad start against the speedy quintet from Columbus, hitting only two of 15 tries from the field in the first quarter, and could never catch up. They pulled within seven points at the end of the third period.

Circleville fell behind 16-8 in the first period. They then proceeded to match the Pirates point for point in the second canto — both teams scored 10 — and outscored them in the third period — CHS tallied 19 while the winners came up with 18.

But Circleville's Tom Smith picked up his fifth foul late in the third quarter. John Thomas was charged with his fifth personal shortly after the final period began.

IN THE FINAL eight minutes, the Pirates rolled up 26 points while Circleville could score only 14.

The Pirates fast break although erratic, was too much for the Circleville cagers to contain.

Central now will meet Teays Valley in a game scheduled to begin 9:30 p. m. Friday in the Coliseum at the State Fairgrounds in Columbus.

Dave Bass started the scoring for the Tigers when he cashed in on a free throw with two minutes of the game under way. He came back one minute later to score the first field goal for the Red and Black.

The quarter was almost over before the Tigers got back in the scoring column. Bass hit another charity toss with a little more than a minute left and then John Thomas poured through a pair from the foul line.

Just as the buzzer sounded, Ron Seward tossed the ball through the nets to account for the Tigers eight first quarter points.

SMITH started the second quarter for Circleville, scoring two field goals while the Central Pirates were getting one. Smith notched seven of his 14 points in the second frame. His next seven points were in the third period.

At the end of the third quarter Thomas notched four quick points on a field goal and two foul shots to cut the Pirate lead to seven points. But from that point on it was strictly Central's game.

Smith scored his 14 points on four field goals and six charity tosses. Thomas hit for 10 during the game with a pair from the field and six at the foul stripe. Those were the lone two Tiger cagers to hit double figures.

Bass, who started at guard, came up with nine points. Bob Purcell had six, Seward contributed five, John Maxwell scored three and Doug Price and Chet Jery each made two. The Tigers finished the game scoring 14 field goals in 66 attempts for an embarrassingly low 21 per cent average.

CENTRAL on the other hand, hit 28 of 64 tries for an acceptable 44 per cent field goal shooting average.

Ron and Don Bell provided Central with a "twin" scoring punch as the brothers tallied 14 points each on identical totals of six field goals and two foul shots.

Chandler added 10 points for the winners as nine Pirates broke into the scoring column.

At the foul line Circleville fared a little better than the winners, canning 23 of 37 attempts. Central netted 14 in

King Paces Irish Win with 28 Points And 19 Rebounds

Lancaster Bishop Fenwick earned a shot at Williamsport in the lower bracket finals of the Teays Valley sectional tournament Saturday by edging The Plains of Mt. Sterling, 58-55.

Outcome of the game between the Blue Devils and the Fenwick Irish, was in doubt all the way.

As the final period began, Fenwick was again on top, this time by a 43-40 margin.

THE LOSERS actually outscored the Irish from the field by six points. But they had only 15 chances at the charity stripe and could convert on a scant seven for a 47 per cent average.

Fenwick's average was little better at 48 per cent, but they stepped to the line 33 times, hitting 16 to provide the winning margin.

Joe King, Fenwick's big and powerful center, kept the Irish in the game with his furious rebounding. He was also the leading scorer in the game, tallying 28 points on 10 field goals and eight charity tosses.

UCLA Poised To Clinch League Title

6 of Other Top Ten Teams Chalk Cage Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UCLA, whose previous NCAA basketball tournament performances have been almost as perfect in reverse as its unbeaten record this season, can clinch the Big Six title and another berth in the post-season play to-night at Washington.

By winning their 23rd game against Washington, a team they've whipped twice already, the Bruins can go into the tournament for the third straight year and sixth time altogether.

The nation's No. 1 team clinched at least a tie for the conference championship with a come-from-behind 100-88 triumph over Stanford Saturday night.

Among the other top ten teams, Michigan, Kentucky, Duke, Wichita, Oregon State and Davidson won while Villanova and Drake were upset. DePaul didn't play.

Leading UCLA's attack have been senior Walt Hazzard and junior Gail Goodrich. They did it again Saturday night, scoring 53 points between them. Hazzard had 27 and Goodrich 26.

Each, however, was outscored by Stanford's Tom Dose, who pitched in 38 points. In fact, the Bruins had to throw up a full-court press in the second half before they could overcome a 42-37 halftime deficit.

Kentucky, 20-2, moved into the lead of the Southeastern Conference, ripping Auburn 99-79 while Georgia upset Georgia Tech 81-68. Kentucky and Georgia Tech had been tied for first, but now a Wildcats' victory coupled with a Yellow Jackets' defeat would end the race.

Both teams play tonight, Kentucky at Alabama and Georgia Tech at Florida.

Michigan, 18-3, remains deadlocked with Ohio State for the Big Ten lead after an easy 103-59 decision over Wisconsin. If the season ends that way, though, the Wolverines still will win the NCAA berth since Ohio State went to the tournament more recently.

Davidson, 21-3, opens its bid for the Southern Conference spot Thursday against The Citadel, which it beat 86-78 Saturday night. The tournament ends Saturday.

Duke, 18-4, must wait until next week before battling in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament. The Blue Devils clinched first place in regular season play, walloping Maryland 84-63.

Drake, hoping to skyrocket from last to first in the Missouri Valley Conference in one season, was detoured slightly by Cincinnati 61-55, its fifth loss in 23 games.

The defeat, combined with Wichita's 86-71 triumph against St. Louis, threw the MVC race into a tie. Wichita, 19-5, plays Tulsa and North Texas State, while Drake meets Tulsa and St. Louis.

Oregon State, one of the NCAA's independent teams, won its 23rd game in 26 starts, trampling Idaho 112-62.

Villanova, another tournament independent, fell to a Philadelphia neighbor, St. Joseph's, 69-63. The loss was the third for the Wildcats against 19 victories.

Knudson Collects Venezuela Purse

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A steady putting effort when the rest of his game gave way has pulled Toronto's young George Knudson within 2½ points of veteran Art Wall for the overall lead on the Caribbean golf tour.

Knudson, 26, went to a 74 on the final round of the Caracas Open Sunday, but still won it with a 277, three strokes up on Ramon Sota of Spain.

That helped him close up on Wall, the veteran from Pocono Manor, Pa., who was third.

Ohio Northern Pilot Is Honored by NAIA

ADA, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Northern's Arden (Stretch) Robertson is the NAIA District 22 (Ohio) football coach of the year, according to a belated announcement from the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The balloting, covering the nine Ohio colleges in the NAIA honored Robertson for a 6-3 season in 1963 which gave him a four-year ONU mark of 24-12.

Length of Bout Predicted

Liston: Victory by 3rd; Clay: Knockout in 8th

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Between one and three, you'll be on the way home," a confident but edgy Sonny Liston predicted today after finishing training for his Tuesday night's heavyweight title defense against the brash and boastful Cassius Clay.

"I'll just hit him hard enough to put him away," the muscled, awesome-looking champion added after a fast-paced, 45-minute final workout at the Surfside Civic Center, "and that should be soon. I have never been sharper for a fight in my life."

If Liston's nerve-jarring words had any effect on the rival camp, Clay and his handlers were doing a superb job of being completely unimpressed.

"I'll outbox him in seven rounds and knock him out in the eighth," said Clay, the poem-spouting Louisville Lip whose fast fists and glib tongue have brought him to threshold of boxing's richest prize.

The 22-year-old, handsome descendant of a Kentucky slave, completed his training routine Saturday, a day earlier than the champion, and confined himself Sunday to a leisurely stroll over the Miami Beach front—with his perennial cane.

His associates were equally unawed on the surface, at least—at the unpleasant prospect of facing a ring killer who has demolished his last three opponents in the opening round.

"This kid is completely unafraid," Angelo Dundee, Clay's trainer, said of Clay. "He is so anxious to get at Liston, he is about to jump out of his skin. And he is supremely sure of himself. In this one thing, I assure you, he's not pulling a bluff."

"I'll be the most surprised man in the world if he doesn't beat Liston and take the championship."

Unfortunately, Dundee's opinion is not shared by the boxing public and, as a result, the fight scheduled for 10 p.m., EST, at the modernistic, pink Convention Hall looms as a certain financial flop at the gate.

Bill MacDonald, the millionaire promoter who had to guarantee $625,000 for the event, acknowledged that so far sales had amounted to only $330,000 and that a late rush would be necessary to meet the $800,000 "nut."

Fans apparently see little sense in paying these prices for seats behind the ringside and for a fight that the so-called experts figure may last no more than a round—three to five at the most. Liston needed only a total of six minutes and 14 seconds to kayo Floyd Patterson twice and Albert Westphal. Liston has been established a 7-1 favorite in the betting, with even money, or 6-5 and take your choice, that Clay doesn't answer the bell for the sixth.

"Actually there is little betting on the fight," a Las Vegas betting representative said. "What there is deals with the round that the fight will end, and not on the outcome of the fight itself."

Although a likely turkey at the gate, the fight probably will be saved financially—for all except MacDonald and his associates—by the closed network television which is expected to lure 1,103,451 persons to 271 centers for a take of $4 million-plus.

Liston's pay day probably will amount to $1,360,000 and Clay's to $600,000—the latter not bad for a young fighter who was an amateur and Uncle Sam's Olympic champion at Rome in 1960.

Liston looked in superb physical condition Sunday as he whipped through his final training paces before a crowd of about 200 at the Surfside Civic Center. He shadow-boxed against a live target for three rounds, hit the small bag, skipped rope and did 100 situps.

Liston was sour and cryptic at his final press conference but he injected moments of high humor. He is as quick with the quip as with the jab.

A reporter asked him if he thought he had improved in the last three years.

"What do you think?" Liston shot back.

"Well, we haven't seen much of you," the reporter replied, referring to the quick knockouts.

"That's why I think I've improved," the champion retorted.

Unheralded Cage Players Spark College Cage Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A pair of unheralded basketball players turned in clutch performances Saturday to steal the spotlight on Ohio's collegiate cage front.

Jim Shaffer, a 6-foot-8 junior from Gahanna, supplied the offensive punch as Ohio State edged stubborn Northwestern, 72-61.

Shaffer delivered 23 points, a career high, as the Buckeyes stayed in a first place deadlock with Michigan in the torrid Big Ten scramble.

Northwestern threw a tight net around All-America Gary Bradds went 34 minutes before hotshot to a mere 12 points. Bradds went 34 minutes before he potted his first basket and had his worst shooting game of the season, connecting on only 3 of 21 attempts.

But Shaffer's outside bombing and Don Platt's 11 points in a reserve role proved the difference. Cincinnati got a first-rate performance from highly touted Ron Krick as the Bearcats shaded Drake, 61-55, sending the Bulldogs into a first-place tie with Wichita in the tough Missouri Valley Conference.

Krick came off the bench midway in the first half and scored 20 points, sparking the Bearcats from a 10-point deficit.

Sophs also played a prominent role as Dayton upset Louisville, 89-79, in a Kentucky clash. Henry Finkel, the Flyers' 6-11 ace, and 6-6 Henry Burling contributed 30 and 26 points, respectively.

Elsewhere, Ohio University nailed down at least a share of the Mid-American Conference crown by slipping Kent State, 65-44. The Bobcats (9-2) close out league play at home against Toledo March 7.

In other MAC contests, Howard (Butch) Komives ripped the cords for 49 points as Bowling Green bombed Western Michigan, 101-81. Komives now needs only 23 points to break the league scoring mark held by former Falcon great Jim Darow.

Toledo romped over Marshall, 112-83, and in the process set three school records and tied one. The 112 points set a single-game record for the TU fieldhouse and the 195 points for both teams tied a field house mark.

The Rockets' 41 field goals and 62 rebounds were school records. In others, Miami shot 50.7 percent to knock off rival Xavier, 96-85; Wittenberg won the Ohio Conference's "round-robin" season schedule with a 13-1 record by belting Kenyon 95-54; Youngstown boosted its record to 21-2 with a one-sided 78-58 triumph over Niagara, and Central State ran its mark to 22-2, best in the state, by edging Tennessee State, 77-71.

This is the last big week of the campaign. The Ohio Conference tournament at Akron, Columbus and Granville gets under way this weekend.

Pearson Is Champion Of Baseball Golfers
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Los Angeles Angels' outfielder Albie Pearson swapped a putter for a bat today after winning the annual National Baseball Players Golf Tournament.

Pearson who outstroked runner-up Ken Harrelson of the Kansas City Athletics 223 to 231 for 54 holes left Sunday night for the Angels' training camp in Palm Springs, Calif.

New York Yankees' pitcher Ralph Terry carded an 85 for a third place total of 234.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—"Between one and three, you'll be on the way home," a confident but edgy Sonny Liston predicted today after finishing training for his Tuesday night's heavyweight title defense against the brash and boastful Cassius Clay.

"I'll just hit him hard enough to put him away," the muscled, awesme-looking champion added after a fast-paced, 45-minute final workout at the Surfside Civic Center, "and that should be soon. I have never been sharper for a fight in my life."

If Liston's nerve-jarring words have any effect on the rival camp, Clay and his handlers were doing a superb job of being completely unimpressed.

"I'll outbox him in seven rounds and knock him out in the eighth," said Clay, the poem-spouting Louisville Lip whose fast fists and glib tongue have brought him to threshold of boxing's richest prize.

The 22-year-old, handsome descendant of a Kentucky slave, completed his training routine Saturday, a day earlier than the champion, and confined himself Sunday to a leisurely stroll over the Miami Beach front—with his perennial cane.

His associates were equally unawed—on the surface, at least—at the unpleasant prospect of facing a ring killer who has demolished his last three opponents in the opening round.

"This kid is completely unafraid," Angelo Dundee, Clay's trainer, said of Clay. "He is so anxious to get at Liston, he is about to jump out of his skin. And he is supremely sure of himself. In this one thing, I assure you, he's not pulling a bluff."

"I'll be the most surprised man in the world if he doesn't beat Liston and take the championship."

Unfortunately, Dundee's opinion is not shared by the boxing public and, as a result, the fight scheduled for 10 p.m., EST, at the modernistic, pink Convention Hall looms as a certain financial flop at the gate.

Bill MacDonald, the millionaire promoter who had to guarantee $625,000 for the event, acknowledged that so far sales had amounted to only $330,000 and that a late rush would be necessary to meet the $800,000 "nut."

Fans apparently see little sense in paying these prices for seats behind the ringside and for a fight that the so-called experts figure may last no more than a round—three to five at the most. Liston needed only a total of six minutes and 14 seconds to kayo Floyd Patterson twice and Albert Westphal. Liston has been established a 7-1 favorite in the betting, with even money, or 6-5 and take your choice, that Clay doesn't answer the bell for the sixth.

"Actually there is little betting on the fight," a Las Vegas betting representative said. "What there is deals with the round that the fight will end, and not on the outcome of the fight itself."

Although a likely turkey at the gate, the fight probably will be saved financially—for all except MacDonald and his associates—by the closed network television which is expected to lure 1,103,451 persons to 271 centers for a take of $4 million-plus.

Liston's pay day probably will amount to $1,360,000 and Clay's to $600,000—the latter not bad for a young fighter who was an amateur and Uncle Sam's Olympic champion at Rome in 1960.

Liston looked in superb physical condition Sunday as he whipped through his final training paces before a crowd of about 200 at the Surfside Civic Center. He shadow-boxed against a live target for three rounds, hit the small bag, skipped rope and did 100 situps.

Liston was sour and cryptic at his final press conference but he injected moments of high humor. He is as quick with the quip as with the jab.

A reporter asked him if he thought he had improved in the last three years.

"What do you think?" Liston shot back.

"Well, we haven't seen much of you," the reporter replied, referring to the quick knockouts.

"That's why I think I've improved," the champion retorted.

Unheralded Cage Players Spark College Cage Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A pair of unheralded basketball players turned in clutch performances Saturday to steal the spotlight on Ohio's collegiate cage front.

Jim Shaffer, a 6-foot-8 junior from Gahanna, supplied the offensive punch as Ohio State edged stubborn Northwestern, 72-61.

Shaffer delivered 23 points, a career high, as the Buckeyes stayed in a first place deadlock with Michigan in the torrid Big Ten scramble.

Northwestern threw a tight net around All - America Gary Bradds went 34 minutes before hotshot to a mere 12 points. Bradds went 34 minutes before he potted his first basket and had his worst shooting game of the season, connecting on only 3 of 21 attempts.

But Shaffer's outside bombing and Don Platt's 11 points in a reserve role proved the difference.

Cincinnati got a first-rate performance from highly touted Ron Krick as the Bearcats shaded Drake, 61-55, sending the Bulldogs into a first-place tie with Wichita in the tough Missouri Valley Conference.

Krick came off the bench midway in the first half and scored 20 points, sparking the Bearcats from a 10-point deficit.

Sophs also played a prominent role as Dayton upset Louisville, 89-79, in a Kentucky clash. Henry Finkel, the Flyers' 6-11 ace, and 6-6 Henry Burlong contributed 30 and 26 points, respectively.

Elsewhere, Ohio University nailed down at least a share of the Mid-American Conference crown by slipping Kent State, 65-44. The Bobcats (9-2) close out league play at home against Toledo March 7.

Unheralded Cage Players Spark College Cage Wins

In other MAC contests, Howard (Butch) Komives ripped the cords for 49 points as Bowling Green bombed Western Michigan, 101-81. Komives now needs only 23 points to break the league scoring mark held by former Falcon great Jim Darrow.

Toledo romped over Marshall, 112-83, and in the process set three school records and tied one. The 112 points set a single-game record for the TU field-house and the 195 points for both teams tied a field house mark.

The Rockets' 41 field goals and 62 rebounds were school records. In others, Miami shot 50.7 per cent to knock off rival Xavier, 96-85; Wittenberg won the Ohio Conference's "round-robin" season schedule with a 13-1 record by belting Kenyon 95-54; Youngs' town boosted its record to 21-2 with a one-sided 78-58 triumph over Niagara, and Central State ran its mark to 22-2, best in the state, by edging Tennessee State, 77-71.

This is the last big week of the campaign. The Ohio Conference tournament at Akron, Columbus and Granville gets underway this weekend.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Instructor-pilot Lester Warner, 27, took over the controls and made a skillful emergency landing Sunday after a light plane's single engine failed after takeoff.

Highway patrol investigators said the plane, with student pilot Herbert Siegel, 38, at the controls, had taken off from Port Columbus Airport and was about 250 feet up when the engine quit.

Warner "did a good job of setting it down," the patrol said. He took over, swung the plane in a circle to the left and attempted to reach a runway. It fell just short, tearing off the gear and damaging wings and fuselage.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Xavier University reported today its enrollment for the spring semester is 1,712. That is 2.9 per cent greater than last year but 4.1 per cent under the enrollment for the start of the 1963-64 fall semester.

Trustees made their selection after examining both sites, Dr. Vernon R. Alden, university president, said. Long range planning starts this spring.

Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum, national director of the American Jewish Committee's department of interreligious affairs, made the statement Sunday at the annual meeting of the Jewish Federation of St. Louis.

The rabbi said the proposed decree was introduced during the last session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council in Rome but was not acted upon.

Miss Kutler Studies at Mexico School

College education gains new dimensions when the student attends school abroad and watches history in the making as Miss Dorothea Kutler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kutler, 1110 Atwater Ave., is learning while studying at the University of the Americas at Mexico City, Mexico.

Miss Kutler is a graduate of Circleville High School and has also attended Lake Erie College in Painesville. She is a student at Ohio State University and is studying at the University of the Americas under the Winter Quarter in the Mexico program. When her quarter there is completed she will return to Ohio State.

On weekends Miss Kutler can visit the ancient ruins of the Pyramids of Teotihuacan, a short distance away from the capital. Or she can go to Oaxaca and admire the impressive archaeology of Mitla and Monte Alban, or to Merida, to visit the ruins of the old Maya empire. This cultural travel, plus watching a nation rise to the front ranks of progress, is an education bonus for Miss Kutler while attending college.

And to further her cosmopolitan training, Miss Kutler has among her instructors at the University of the Americas, renowned educators from the United States, Europe and Latin America, who conduct all classes in English. The credits she earns there are recognized by American colleges since the University of the Americas is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

FOR MANY YEARS the Institute of International Education has listed UA as the most popular foreign school among American students, with the Sobonne running second.

While English is the language more widely used at UA, Miss Kutler must use Spanish in her daily living outside of the school.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio cigarette tax revenue gained slightly last week over the comparable period a year ago. This follows a decline of three consecutive weeks after the federal health report.

State Treasurer John D. Herbert said revenues from the five-cent-a-pack Ohio levy last week totaled $1,037,033, compared with $1,005,766 a year ago.

The total for the week was $76,233 ahead of the $960,800 total for the previous week.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Instructor-pilot Lester Warner, 27, took over the controls and made a skillful emergency landing Sunday after a light plane's single engine failed after takeoff.

Highway patrol investigators said the plane, with student pilot Herbert Siegel, 38, at the controls, had taken off from Port Columbus Airport and was about 250 feet up when the engine quit.

Warner "did a good job of setting it down," the patrol said. He took over, swung the plane in a circle to the left and attempted to reach a runway. It fell just short, tearing off the gear and damaging wings and fuselage.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Xavier University reported today its enrollment for the spring semester is 1,712. That is 2.9 per cent greater than last year but 4.1 per cent under the enrollment for the start of the 1963-64 fall semester.

Registrar Ramond J. Fellingner described the decrease from the fall enrollments as normal because many students always drop out after the first semester.

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio University's permanent Belmont County branch will be established on the 270-acre site three miles east of St. Clairsville where a tuberculosis sanatorium and county experimental farm are located.

The university has been operating a Belmont County branch in Martins Ferry since 1957, and that city offered a 180-acre site. Trustees made their selection after examining both sites, Dr. Vernon R. Alden, university president, said. Long range planning starts this spring.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Queen Frederika of Greece was bedridden with a light case of pneumonia today, four days after her husband, King Paul, underwent emergency surgery for stomach ulcers. Palace doctors announced the king, 62, is showing continuing improvement and is in
